

The Enduring Legacy of Venetian Renaissance Art

Edited by Andaleeb Badiee Banta

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Notes on Contributors	xv
Acknowledgments	xix
Introduction: In the Shadow of La Serenissima Andaleeb Badiee Banta and Lindsey Schneider	1
1 The Neurosis of Visual Legacy: Seicento Venetian Painters Confront Their Past Taryn Marie Zarrillo	11
2 “Il Prete Genovese”: Bernardo Strozzi and the Venetian Cinquecento Andaleeb Badiee Banta	25
3 Titian and Tintoretto in the Sacristy of Santa Maria della Salute: A Seicento Accademia for Displaced Treasures of the Venetian Cinquecento Allison Sherman	41
4 “A Beautiful Woman Should Break Her Mirror Early”: The Rokeby Venus, the Venetians, and Gracián Aneta Georgievska-Shine	61
5 “A Good Friend of Our Venetian Maniera”: Pietro da Cortona and Neo-Venetianism in Roman Painting After 1650 Lindsey Schneider	73
6 Paolo Veronese Revisited: Art Collecting and Connoisseurship in Eighteenth-Century Venice Linda Borean	89

7	Antonio Corradini, the Collegio dei Scultori, and Neo-Cinquecentismo in Venice Around 1720 Matej Klemenčič	103
8	Displaying Objects and Performing Publics: Antonio Maria Zanetti's Delle Antiche Statue Janna Israel	121
9	The Long Shadows of Titian's Trees Leopoldine Prosperetti	139
10	Conjuring Venetian Costume: The Influence of Cinquecento Paintings in Mariano Fortuny's Dress Designs Wendy Ligon Smith	157
	Afterword: Quick to Say Good-Bye, Hard to Forget: The Long Lives of Cinquecento Venetian Pictures Jodi Cranston	169
	Works Cited	179
	Index	201