

The CIA in Hollywood

How the Agency Shapes
Film and Television

Revised and Updated Edition

TRICIA JENKINS

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 1

1. Rogues, Assassins, and Buffoons: Representations of the CIA in Film and Television 14
2. Opening the Doors: Why and How the CIA Works with Hollywood 32
3. Necessary and Competent: The CIA in The Agency and In the Company of Spies 54
4. The Chase Brandon Years 73
5. The Legal and Ethical Implications of the CIA in Hollywood 100
6. The Last People We Want in Hollywood: The Retired CIA Officer and the Hollywood Docudrama 124
7. Argo's Tony Mendez: The First Retiree the CIA Wants in Hollywood 142
8. Relaxing the Rules: Zero Dark Thirty, Homeland, and the Move toward Nuance 153

Conclusion 177

Notes 183

Bibliography 203

Index 219