

JAMES JOYCE AND THE JESUITS

MICHAEL MAYO
University of Oxford

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	page x
I Introduction	I
1.1 'the cursed Jesuit strain'	I
1.2 'O, a jesuit for your life, for diplomacy!'	2
1.3 The Question of Influence	6
1.4 Joyce and Theology	11
1.5 The Manual	14
1.6 Paranoid Reading	18
1.7 Negative Narrative	19
1.8 Choices and the Double Bind	24
1.9 Methodology and Structure	25
2 The Disturbed Mind	29
2.1 Doubting and Not Doubting	29
2.2 The Retreat	30
2.3 The Psychoanalytic Analogue	33
2.4 The Transference and the Exercises	34
2.5 Dangers of the Transference	37
2.6 The Attenuated Ego	39
2.7 The Unbearable Text	43
2.8 Salutary	45
2.9 The Pleasure of the Unbearable Text	48
2.10 Dangers of Irony	51
2.11 The Depressive Solution: The Loyolan Position	53
2.12 The Internal Objectum Christi	56
3 Beyond the Uncle Charles Principle	58
3.1 The Principle	58
3.2 Though But Fussy But	59
3.3 The Problem of Idiolect	64
3.4 Gabriel the Father	66
3.5 The Actual Ignorant Old Woman	69
3.6 Projective Identification	71
3.7 Judgement Night	74

4	The Labour of Reading: Joyce with Klein	81
4.1	The Heavy Book	81
4.2	All Surface, All Depth	82
4.3	Behind the Glass	87
4.4	Crossroads	93
4.5	Paranoid Creativity, Paranoid Comfort	96
4.6	'Desire and prohibition': Epistemophilia	98
4.7	What 'The Sisters' Won't Know It Knows	101
4.8	The Flatness of the Transference	106
4.9	Being Stuck, Getting Dirty	109
5	Kleinian Aesthetics	111
5.1	The Will to Get Inside	111
5.2	Ambivalence	116
5.3	The Birth of Thought	118
5.4	The Symbolic Equation	124
6	Discernment and Indifference	127
6.1	Discernment	127
6.2	The Phantasy of And	132
6.3	Mysticism and the Exercises	135
6.4	The Price to Be Paid	137
6.5	Affections and Intellect	139
6.6	Good Dead: Indifference	140
7	It Was Pitch Dark Almost	143
7.1	The Loyolan Position and Form	143
7.2	The Sermon	144
7.3	Prelude in Cork	149
7.4	The Production of Wonder	155
7.5	The Woman of the Ballyhoura Hills	159
7.6	Opaque Obviousness	163
7.7	'Aquinas tunbelly'	166
7.8	Composition of Place	169
7.9	'Almosting It'	172
7.10	The Third Thing	174
8	Substantiation	178
8.1	Qui l'avait mise dans cette fichue position?	178
8.2	Ambivalence as the Substance	181
8.3	Here Is the Matter Now	182
8.4	The Substance	184
8.5	Puzzles and Laughter	187
8.6	Knowing a Subject	191
8.7	Substance and Style	195

Contents

	ix
8.8 Metaphor	199
8.9 Substance	201
9 Conclusion: The Transference	205
Bibliography	213
Index	223