

MEMORY UNBOUND

Tracing the Dynamics of Memory Studies

Edited by

Lucy Bond, Stef Craps, and Pieter Vermeulen

berghahn

NEW YORK • OXFORD

www.berghahnbooks.com

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Introduction: Memory on the Move Lucy Bond, Stef Craps, and Pieter Vermeulen	1
PART I. Transcultural Memory
1. Staging Shared Memory: Je Veux voir and L'Empreinte de l'ange Max Silverman	29
2. Remembering the Indonesian Killings: The Act of Killing and the Global Memory Imperative Rosanne Kennedy	47
3. Transnational Memory and the Construction of History through Mass Media Aleida Assmann	65
PART II. Transgenerational Memory
4. Small Acts of Repair: The Unclaimed Legacy of the Romanian Holocaust Marianne Hirsch and Leo Spitzer	83
5. Fictions of Generational Memory: Caryl Phillips's In the Falling Snow and Black British Writing in Times of Mnemonic Transition Astrid Erll	109
6. The Uses of Facebook for Examining Collective Memory: The Emergence of Nasser Facebook Pages in Egypt Joyce van de Bildt	131

PART III. Transmedial Memory

7. Connective Memory: How Facebook Takes Charge of Your Past 151
José van Dijck
8. Embodiments of Memory: Toward an Existential Approach to the Culture of Connectivity 173
Amanda Lagerkvist
9. Metaphorical Memories of the Medieval Crusades after 9/11 195
Brian Johnsrud

PART IV. Transdisciplinary Memory

10. The Agency of Memory Objects: Tracing Memories of Soweto at Regina Mundi Church 221
Frauke Wiegand
11. Cultural Memory Studies in the Epoch of the Anthropocene 242
Richard Crownshaw
12. “Filled with Words”: Modeling the September 11 Digital Archive and the Utility of Digital Methods in the Study of Memory 258
Jessica K. Young
- Index 277