

The Religious Existentialists and the Redemption of Feeling

Edited by Anthony Malagon and Abi Doukhan

LEXINGTON BOOKS
Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
Anthony Malagon
1 “One Who Does Not Taste Does Not Know”: Thomas Aquinas on When Affect Constitutes Knowledge of God	21
Stephen Chanderbhan
2 Intellectual Ascent and Experience in Dante’s Divine Comedy	39
Antonio Donato
3 More Than a Feeling: Kierkegaard’s Redemption of Love	53
Michael Strawser
4 James and Nishida: A Phenomenology of Mystical Consciousness	69
J. Jeremy Wisnewski
5 Nikolai Berdyaev: Toward a New Humanism, Based on a New Concept of Being Human	83
Emiliya Ivanova
6 Max Scheler’s Concept of Shame as a Preconceptual Revelation of the Ontological Status of the Human Person	95
Marc Barnes
7 The Necessity of Feeling in Unamuno and Kant: For the Tragic as for the Beautiful and Sublime	103
José Luis Fernández
8 The Redemption of Negative Feeling: Miguel de Unamuno	117
Mariana Alessandri

9	“Not a ‘Feeling’ But a Perceived Mystery”: Martin Buber and the Redemption of Feeling in I-Thou Relationships Eugene V. Torisky Jr.	131
10	The Bared Self: Levinas and the Hassidic Tradition Catherine Chaliar	147
11	Beyond Reason: Emmanuel Levinas on Sensation, Feeling, and Morality Randolph Wheeler	163
12	Does Faith Trouble Philosophy?: On Franz Rosenzweig’s Method and System Herman J. Heering	175
13	The Relevance Of Karl Jaspers’ Philosophy Of Religion Today Anton Hügli	187
14	Philosophy, Prophecy, and Existential Hope: Marcel in the Broken World of the Twenty-First Century Jill Hernandez	205
15	The Unifying Force of Emotion: Human Nature, Community, and the World Nikolaj Zunic	215
16	Love, Leisure, and Festivity: Josef Pieper on the Passions of Love and the Contemplation of God Margaret I. Hughes	225
17	Feeling Distant, Feeling Divine: The Transformative Import of Difference in Nietzsche and Irigaray James Abordo Ong	233
	Bibliography	243
	Index	251
	Author Bios	263