

Contents

Introduction	1
The digital media era: Challenges and transformations Nael Jebri, Stephen Jukes, Sofia Iordanidou and Emmanouil Takas
PART I: CIVIC MEDIA LITERACIES AND JOURNALISM PEDAGOGY	9
1. Civic media literacies: Re-imagining engagement for civic intentionality Paul Mihailidis	10
2. Global voices in journalism education Karen Fowler-Watt	28
PART II: SOCIAL MEDIA AND POLITICAL PARTICIPATION	45
3. Social web-induced changes in protest culture: A model of an ad hoc public counter-discourse based on the case of the controversy surrounding #Aufschrei (#Outrage) Svenja Paul and Ralf Spiller	46
4. Snap election surprises: A quantitative analysis of Facebook use by political actors in the 2017 UK election Matt Walsh	59
PART III: NEWS MAKING AND CONSUMPTION STRATEGIES	91
5. How social media and technology are challenging journalists' perceptions of their role Stephen Jukes	92
6. Political reporting in the digital media era: Norms, attitudes and performance Theodora A. Maniou, Irene Photiou, Elena Kettani and Ioannis Seitani	112
7. News consumption strategies in the young Swedish media audience Maria Elliot	136

JOURNALISM, SOCIETY AND POLITICS

PART IV: MEDIA FRAMING AND REPRESENTATION	157
8. The Christian community in the Syrian conflict: Social representations of the Christian minority in the online newspapers of Greece, Britain and France Marie Lavrentiadou and Achilleas Karadimitriou	158
9. Presentations of the Ukrainian Crisis in the French press Charalampos Gousios and Ioli Taktikou	185
Notes on contributors	206