

Contents

Preface	vii
1. The Hegelian System	1
The Works of Hegel
The Place of the Individual Philosopher
2. The Text of Hegel's Introduction	15
The Nature of Thought
Philosophical Thinking
Reason vs. Understanding
Reason and Freedom
The Life of Thought
Idea and Reality
Philosophical Involvement
Thought as "Negation"
Religion and Philosophy
The Concrete Universal
The Infinity of Spirit
The Stages of Philosophy
3. G. W. F. HEGEL, Introduction to the History of Philosophy	67
A. Concept of the History of Philosophy
I. Preliminary Notions
II. Application of these Notions to the History of Philosophy
III. Consequences in Regard to Treating the History of Philosophy
B. Relation of the History of Philosophy to the Rest of Spirit's Manifestations
I. The Historical Status of Philosophy

- ii. More Precise Characterization of the Relationship between Philosophy and the Other Manifestations of Spirit
 - c. General Division of the History of Philosophy
 - i. The Beginning of the History of Philosophy
 - ii. Progress in the History of Philosophy
 - d. Sources and Literature for the History of Philosophy
- Appendix
- G. W. F. HEGEL, Authority and Freedom