

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
1 The Need for a Language for the Passions	1
2 Life's Progress through the Passions	29
3 "Give Me a Speaking and a Writing Love": Passionate Letters	51
4 The Miscellany's Picture Poems and Haywood's Poems on Several Occasions	83
5 The Plain Dealer's Progress from the Garrison to the Midwife	115
6 The Dangers of Giving Way to Language Conclusion: Hill's, Fowke's, and Haywood's Progress through the Passions	147 187
Notes	197
Bibliography	219
Index	231