

Contents

Preface	page xi
Key to abbreviations and translators	xvii
1 Introduction	I
Immanuel Kant's life	I
Kant's audiences	3
Kant's respect for ordinary moral thinking	4
Kant's debt to Pietism	6
Kant and the Enlightenment	7
2 The context for Kant's moral philosophy	11
Kant's response to skepticism	12
A priori and a posteriori knowledge claims	14
Can there be synthetic a priori judgments?	15
Ideas of reason	17
Questions of methodology	19
Part I: The nature of morality
3 The nature of human action	23
The exercise of causal power	24
Always goal directed	24
The presence of desires	26
Practical rules	28
The task ahead	29
4 Prudence: taking care of our own interests	31
Desires, inclinations, and self-interest	31
Prudential reasoning	32
Technical imperatives	34
Prudential imperatives	35
The amorality of prudence	37
Past errors	39
What can be learned	41
5 Morality: living autonomously	44
Freedom	44
Autonomy	46
Moral rules	47
The Categorical Imperative	49
Obligatory, forbidden, or permissible	50

CONTENTS

Narrow and wide duties	51
Moral judgment	54
Erroneous moral judgments	57
The infallibility of conscience	60
6 Morally obligatory ends	63
Objective ends	64
Right actions	66
A "good will"	68
Kinds of practical goods	68
A system of obligatory ends	70
Conflicts between moral rules	72
7 The defense of morality	76
How is morality possible?	77
Why this is a problem	79
Kant's first argument: Part I	81
Kant's first argument: Part II	85
Kant's second argument	88
Relating the two viewpoints	90
Metaphysical questions	93
8 The primacy of morality	95
A brief history	96
The grounds for primacy	97
The limitations of theoretical reasoning	98
Superior cognitive power	102
Superior conative power	103
What primacy means	104
X Unity under a common principle	109
Another quest	112
Part II: The moral norm for persons
9 Moral character: Part I	117
Merely pathological desires	118
Conflicts between reason and desire	119
Duty	121
Virtue	122
Mixed motivation	122
The "radical evil" in human nature	124
The nature of moral character	126
Kinds of moral character	129
10 Moral character: Part II	131
Moral interest	131
Moral sentiments	132
Respect for the moral law	133

CONTENTS

The range of moral emotions	135
The spirit of virtue	136
Moral fanaticism	137
Morally indifferent and permissible actions	138
Holiness an obligatory end	139
The postulate of immortality	141
The postulates of God and of grace	142
Metaphysical questions	144
Part III: The norm for moral judgment
11 The Categorical Imperative	149
Ease of use	150
The problem	151
The principle of noncontradiction	151
The derivation	153
Problematic texts	157
Empirical content	159
Problems with maxims	160
The necessary and sufficient norm	163
Not a prudential norm	163
12 The Formula of Autonomy or of Universal Law: Part I	165
Self-constraint	165
Practical lawfulness	166
Testing the maxim of a lying promise	167
Kant's doctrine concerning lies	170
Kant's infamous reply to Constant	173
Consistency with other maxims	178
13 The Formula of Autonomy or of Universal Law: Part II	180
The principle of physico-teleology	181
Kant's transformation of the tradition	182
Obligatory natural ends	184
Kant's examples	186
Another example	188
Problems with such ends	190
Culture and morality	191
14 The Formula of Respect for the Dignity of Persons	193
Persons and things	195
Respect for persons	198
Self-respect	200
Our own happiness	202
Respect for others	203
Problems	209

CONTENTS

15	The Formula of Legislation for a Moral Community	212
	A moral community	214
	The ethical community: a church	216
	The supreme good and the complete good	218
	Not a norm of moral judgment	222
	The postulates of God and immortality	223
	A problem	226

Part IV: Kant on history, politics, and religion

16	Autonomy and the state	233
	Problems confronting Kant's political theory	234
	Kant's philosophy of history	235
	The genesis of the state	239
	Autonomy and political coercion	241
	Crime and punishment	243
	No right to revolution	244
17	Civil justice and republicanism	246
	The Principle of Right ( Recht )	247
	Kinds of laws	248
	The Principle of Publicity	249
	"Private morality"	250
	Morality and politics	251
	The ideal state: a republic	252
	Principles of a republican government	254
	Perpetual peace and a league of nations	256
	Kant's moral and political theories	258
	The value of the political life	259
18	Kant's philosophy of religion	261
	"The philosopher of Protestantism"	262
	The church	265
	Original Sin	268
	Grace and justification	270
	Conclusion	273

Appendixes

1	Kant's two-viewpoints doctrine	279
	"Morally indifferent" freedom	279
	Autonomous freedom	281
	Heteronomous freedom	284
2	Kant's philosophy of moral education	287
	A moral catechism	289
	Developing moral judgment	291
	Practice in moral discipline	292

CONTENTS

Notes	295
Bibliography	384
Index of names	397
Index of subjects	401