

Contents

Table of Cases	xiii
Table of Domestic Law Statutes and Other Regulations	xxi
List of Abbreviations	xxiii
I. On the International Judicial Function	1
A. Why the International Court of Justice?	4
B. A Caveat about the Use of the Term 'State-centric'	7
C. Structure of this Book	8
II. Towards Legalization: Constructing an International Court	10
A. The Institutionalization of Law: Introduction	10
B. The Hague Peace Conferences, 1899 and 1907	12
C. The Permanent Court of International Justice, 1922	20
D. The Statute of the International Court of Justice, 1945	34
E. Conclusion	40
III. Identity and Function: The Judicial Character of the Court	41
A. Form, Function, and the Court	41
B. The Contentious Function of the Court	47
C. The Advisory Function of the Court	74
D. The Court and the Development of International Law	85
E. Conclusion	93
IV. Justification and Authority: The Deliberative Process	95
A. 'Speaking with One Voice'	95
B. Judicial Obligation to Give Reasons	98
C. The Collective Drafting Process of the Court	103
D. The Right to Append an Individual Opinion	109
E. Conclusion	123
V. Impartiality and the Role of the International Judge	126
A. Introduction	126
B. Defining Impartiality	130
C. Certain Constraints on Judicial Behaviour	132
D. Judges Ad Hoc	145
E. Final Reflections on Impartiality	154

VI. Normative Authority and the Adherence to Precedent by the Court	156
A. Introduction	156
B. The Relevance of the Yugoslavia Cases: Was the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia a Member of the United Nations between 1992 and 2000?	160
C. The Theory of Precedent and the Court	166
D. The Authority of Precedent	180
E. Conclusion	191
VII. A Reluctant Guardian: The Court and the Concept of 'International Community'	194
A. Introduction	194
B. The Concept of 'International Community'	197
C. The Purely Ornamental Use of the Term 'International Community' in the Case Law of the Court: The 'Tried and True' Cases Re-explained	207
D. Peremptory Norms	217
E. Rules of Jus Cogens and Obligations Erga Omnes in the Case Law of the Court	224
F. Conclusion	236
VIII. The Essential Judicial Function and the International Legal System	240
A. Introduction	240
B. The 'Curative' Judicial Function Within a Legal System	241
C. On Gaps in the Law	246
D. The Theory of Completeness of International Law	252
E. Nuclear Weapons : The Advisory Opinion that Re-Kindled the Debate	266
F. Beyond the 'Ossification' of International Law	276
IX. Beyond Legalization: Final Thoughts	281
A. Introduction	281
B. Reimagining the Court's Judicial Function	283
C. Final Observations	290
Bibliography	293
Index	325