

Contents

|  |    |
|--|----|
| List of Abbreviations                         | xv |
| Introduction: The Moral Limits of Asymmetric Killing | 1  |

PART I. THEORY

|   |    |
|---|----|
| 1. Asymmetric Violence and the State of the Field | 17 |
| Introduction                                      | 17 |
| Casualty Aversion and Moral Hazard                | 17 |
| The Threshold Challenge                           | 19 |
| Risk-Transfer War                                 | 20 |
| More Than a Question of Conformity                | 21 |
| The Expendability of Combatants                   | 21 |
| The Chivalric Dismissal                           | 24 |
| Engaging the Challenge Itself                     | 26 |
| Historicizing the Challenge of Radical Asymmetry  | 28 |
| Reciprocal Risk and History                       | 28 |
| Historical Cases                                  | 31 |
| Conclusion  | 32 |
| 2. The Moral Challenge of Radical Asymmetry       | 33 |
| Introduction                                      | 33 |
| The Structural Reciprocity of War                 | 34 |
| Violence and Contestation                         | 35 |
| Justified Killing in War                          | 38 |
| The Historical Challenge of Asymmetry             | 40 |
| The Challenge of Radical Asymmetry                | 43 |
| The Changing Nature of War                        | 48 |
| A Gardener's Vision of War                        | 49 |
| Radical Asymmetry and the Redirection of Risk     | 54 |
| Conclusion  | 56 |

PART II. RECIPROCAL RISK IN WAR

|                                      |    |
|--------------------------------------|----|
| 3. Reciprocity and the Warrior Ethos | 59 |
| Introduction                         | 59 |
| The Age of the Warrior               | 60 |
| Ancient Greek and Roman Warfare      | 60 |
| Medieval European Warfare            | 66 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| The Age of the Soldier  | 70  |
| Early Modern and Modern Warfare                                 | 70  |
| Post-Heroic Warfare   | 75  |
| Conclusion  | 79  |
| 4. Reciprocity and Just Conduct in War                          | 81  |
| Introduction  | 81  |
| Conventionalism   | 82  |
| Moral Equality and Material Threat                              | 83  |
| Structural Risk, Status, and the Challenge of Radical Asymmetry | 88  |
| Revisionism   | 92  |
| The Moral Inequality of Combatants                              | 92  |
| Radical Asymmetry and the Responsibility Threshold              | 94  |
| Contractarianism  | 98  |
| The Contractarian Right to Kill                                 | 98  |
| The One-Sided Bargain of Radical Asymmetry                      | 100 |
| Conclusion  | 103 |

PART III. THE HISTORICAL AND CONTEMPORARY CHALLENGE OF ASYMMETRY

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 5. Military Sniping   | 107 |
| Introduction  | 107 |
| Historical Overview   | 108 |
| Early Ranged Violence   | 109 |
| The Asymmetric Potential of Sniping                             | 110 |
| Sniping and the Warrior Ethos                                   | 113 |
| The Modernization of War and the Endurance of Chivalry          | 113 |
| Sniping and the Chivalry Deficit                                | 116 |
| Material Non-Threat and the Moral Challenge of Sniping          | 119 |
| Sniping and Just Conduct in War                                 | 119 |
| The De Facto Status of the Sniper                               | 124 |
| The Limits and Resolution of the Challenge of Sniping           | 126 |
| The Exigencies of Modern War                                    | 126 |
| Combat Responsibility and the Sniping Ethos                     | 128 |
| Conclusion  | 130 |
| 6. Manned Aerial Bombing  | 131 |
| Introduction  | 131 |
| Historical Overview   | 132 |
| Early Bombing: Military Balloons and Airships                   | 133 |
| The Dawn of the Aircraft and Civilian Bombing                   | 135 |
| The Asymmetry-Challenge of Civilian Bombing                     | 139 |
| Aerial Bombing and the Chivalry Deficit                         | 139 |
| Material Non-Threat and the Moral Challenge of Civilian Bombing | 144 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| The Antecedents of Radical Asymmetry                                | 147 |
| The First Gulf War: Highway of Death                                | 147 |
| Operation Allied Force: Zero Combat Casualty Warfare                | 151 |
| The Limits and Resolution of the Challenge of Manned Aerial Bombing | 154 |
| The Individual and Structural Risk of Manned Bombing                | 154 |
| Combat Responsibility and the Aircrew Ethos                         | 156 |
| Conclusion  | 158 |
| 7. UAV-Exclusive Violence   | 159 |
| Introduction  | 159 |
| Historical Overview   | 160 |
| Early Concepts and Designs  | 160 |
| The Radically Asymmetric Potential of UAV Warfare                   | 163 |
| The Ethical Challenge of UAV Violence                               | 168 |
| UAVs and the End of Heroism?  | 168 |
| Ethics in an Age of Radical Asymmetry                               | 170 |
| The Moral Challenge of UAV Violence                                 | 171 |
| Radical Asymmetry and Just Conduct in War                           | 172 |
| Low-Level Targeting and the Conceptual Expansion of Threat          | 176 |
| The Implications of Radical Asymmetry                               | 180 |
| Enemy Status and the Changing Nature of War                         | 180 |
| UAVs and the Redirection of Risk                                    | 185 |
| Conclusion  | 186 |
| Conclusion  | 188 |
| References   | 201 |
| Index  | 241 |