

CONTENTS

I.	PURPOSE AND SETTING	1
	1. Rationale of the Study	1
	2. Status of Women in the Ancient Fertile Crescent and the Greco-Roman World	4
	a. Ancient Fertile Crescent	4
	b. The Greek World	7
	c. The Roman World	22
	3. Ancient Hebrew Background	25
II.	ATTITUDE TOWARD WOMEN IN WISDOM AND PSEUDEPIGRAPHICAL LITERATURE	29
	1. Wisdom Literature	29
	2. Pseudepigraphical Literature	46
III.	ATTITUDE OF MAJOR JEWISH GROUPS TOWARD WOMEN	56
	1. Pharisees	56
	2. Sadducees	61
	3. Essenes--Qumran	62
	4. Therapeutae	66
	5. Elephantine Women	69
	6. The Rabbis	70
	a. Positive Evaluations of Women	72
	b. Negative Evaluations of Women	79
IV.	WOMEN IN RELATION TO CULT AND TORAH	83
	1. Women Fulfilling Torah	83
	2. Segregation in Temple and Synagogue	88
	3. No Men, No Minyan	91
	4. Women Reading Torah	92
	5. Women Studying Torah	93
	a. Beruria: The Exception That Proves the Rule	97

b.	Imma Shalom: No Exception	104
c.	Other Non-exceptions	105
6.	Women Distract from Torah	111
V.	WOMEN IN SOCIETY	114
1.	Women's Education	114
2.	Women Bearing Witness	115
3.	Women, Children, and Slaves	117
4.	Women Appearing in Public	118
5.	Women's Head and Face Covering	121
6.	Conversation with Women	123
7.	Women's Absence from Meals	125
VI.	WOMEN AND SEX	126
1.	Women as Sex Objects	126
2.	Impure Menstruous Women	130
3.	Married Women	139
4.	Polygyny	144
5.	Adultery	148
6.	Divorce	154
VII.	CONCLUSION	167
	NOTES	174
	INDEX	235