

CONTENTS

| | |
|-----------------------|----|
| Preface..... | ix |
| Acknowledgements..... | xv |

Part One THE DESCRIPTION OF JUDAISM Selecting and Organizing Facts

| | |
|--|----|
| I. Parsing the Rabbinic Canon. Explaining a Fresh Approach..... | 3 |
| II. Defining a New Category: The Virtues of the Inner Life in Formative Judaism | 13 |
| i. Emotions and the Virtues of the Inner Life..... | 13 |
| ii. Emotion and Tradition..... | 16 |
| iii. Constancy and Change..... | 22 |
| iv. Change in the Use of Scripture..... | 23 |
| v. Change in the Definition of the Generative Symbol..... | 26 |
| vi. Change in the System's Teleology..... | 30 |
| vii. Wimp or Warrior: Who Is Israel and Why..... | 33 |
| viii. Were the Rabbis Wrong?..... | 40 |
| III. Description as Recognition of Facts: Goodenough on the Symbolism of the Art of the Ancient Synagogue | 45 |
| i. Goodenough's Contribution..... | 45 |
| ii. The Symbols One by One: Goodenough's Basic Approach..... | 46 |
| iii. The Archaeological Evidence..... | 47 |
| iv. Goodenough's Method..... | 52 |
| v. Interpreting the Symbols One by One..... | 57 |
| vi. Goodenough's Essential Contribution in Volumes One through Eight | 59 |
| vii. The Symbols Interpreted All Together as a Judaism..... | 61 |
| viii. Conclusion..... | 74 |
| IV. Description and Definition: From Judaism to Judaisms in the Case of the Messiah-Theme | 79 |
| i. What Is a Judaism?..... | 79 |
| ii. How Do We Know One Judaism from Another?..... | 80 |
| iii. Describing a Religion System by System..... | 83 |
| iv. Messian-ism or Messiah-Theme?..... | 84 |

Part Two THE ANALYSIS OF JUDAISM Comparative Studies A Theory of Comparison and Two Exercises

| | |
|--|----|
| V. Toward a Theory of Comparison: The Importance of the Canonical Context | 93 |
| i. Defining the Terms of this Inquiry..... | 93 |
| ii. Toward a Theory of Comparison: The Case of Comparative Midrash | 95 |

| | | |
|---|---|-----|
| iii. | Comparing Exegeses of Scripture out of Canonical Context: Comparative Midrash as Presently Practiced | 99 |
| iv. | Comparative Midrash at the Present Time: Bloch, Vermes, and Fraade vs. Fraade | 101 |
| v. | The Basic Issue..... | 108 |
| vi. | Comparing Whole to Whole..... | 112 |
| vii. | The Argument of The Integrity of Leviticus Rabbah..... | 113 |
| viii. | Peripatetic Exegeses of Scripture..... | 113 |
| ix. | The Textuality of a Text..... | 114 |
| x. | The Integrity of a Document in the Canon of Judaism..... | 117 |
| xi. | Conclusion: The Centrality of Redaction in the Formulation and Selection of Verses of Scripture, Therefore in the Comparison of Exegeses | 120 |
| VI. | Comparing Stories: Death Scenes in a Judaic and a Christian Context | 129 |
| i. | One Relationship, Two Contexts..... | 129 |
| ii. | Comparison and Contrast..... | 130 |
| iii. | Rabbinic Death-Scenes..... | 131 |
| iv. | Comparing Death-Scenes..... | 134 |
| v. | Comparing Rabbinic and Christian Death-Scenes..... | 137 |
| VII. | The Jewish Christian Argument in the First Century: Different People Talking about Different Things to Different People | 141 |
| i. | Talking Across the Abyss..... | 141 |
| ii. | Sanctification vs. Salvation..... | 142 |
| iii. | Shared Symbols, Different Meanings..... | 145 |
| iv. | Eternity vs. History..... | 148 |
| v. | Sage-Priest vs. Messiah..... | 150 |
| Part Three THE INTERPRETATION OF JUDAISM Theology and the Study of Religion including Judaism | | |
| VIII. | The Theological Enemies of Religious Studies..... | 155 |
| i. | The Secular and Protestant-Theological Consensus..... | 155 |
| ii. | The Intellectual Problem: Religion as Mainly a Matter of Personal Faith | 159 |
| iii. | The Institutional Problem: Imperfect Professionalization of the Academic Study of Religion. Is There Anything to be Learned When We Study Religion? | 164 |
| iv. | The Academic Study of Religion at the Center of the Curriculum | 167 |
| | Index..... | 169 |