

CONTENTS

1

SUFI EDUCATION

Monitoring by the Teacher	13
Barriers to Learning	14
Indirect Teaching	14
Overdoing things can be poisonous	16
Finding further ranges in jokes	16
Negative and Positive operation	17
Human completion or psychotherapy?	17
Sufism learnt by means of Itself	18
Cult-formation as an abnormality	18
Hemispheric brain-function	18
Transposition of Concepts	19
Awareness of Motivation	19
True and false Teachers	20
Contemporary Psychology	20
Consumerism in approaching Knowledge	20
Limitations of working with derivative material	21
How not to Learn	22
The Circuses	23
Teachership is function, not appearance	23
The example of Christianity	24
Modifications through Imagination	25
Sufi analysis of Education	25
Who would admit to Ignorance?	27
The Aim	28
Flexibility	28
Assumptions and points of view	29
Sequential and holistic thought	30
Narratives	30
Shifting of Attention	31
Basis of Sufi Theory and Practice	32
Energetic Attention	33
Supersession Exercises	33
Anonymity of the Sufi	34

Harmonization	35
Imagination	36
Rites, beliefs, practices	37
The Evil Eye	37
The desire matched by the means	38
The Three Approaches	38
Two Ways . . .	39
The false student learns his Falsity	39
'Come back in three years'	40
Examining assumptions	40
The untaught and the wrongly taught	41
The wise man and foolishness	41
'Chaotic' literature	43
Discontinuity	43
The Visitor from Space	44

2

ON THE NATURE OF SUFI KNOWLEDGE

The disciple who became a teacher	49
Monitoring and fresh adaptation	50
Teaching versus entertaining	51
The right to be served, not the right to demand	51
Seeing and understanding	54
The quality of understanding	56
Learning problems inherent in cultural priorities	58
The purr and the snore	60
Proliferation of Externals	61
A school and a leaven	65
Perceiving the imitators	66
Seeing and Knowing	69
The Relative as a channel to the True	70
Advantages for Sufi knowledge	72

3

THE PATH AND THE DUTIES AND TECHNIQUES

Three capacities: Ghazzali	78
The Ten Duties of the Student	79
The Stations and the States	80
Tale of the Amazing Experiences	81

The Conditions of the Human Self	82
The Invisible Teacher	84
The Eleven Rules of the Masters of the Design	85
Beard, Cloak and Rosary	87
The Five Subtleties	89
What the teacher knows	90
Wonders and Miracles	91
A flowerless garden	92
Going faster . . .	92

4

THE TEACHING STORY – 1

Time and Pomegranates	97
Abolition of Impact	99
Analogical teaching	100
Nutrition from the Container	101
'Innermost' feelings	101
Stealing advice	102
The symptoms	103
The camelman and the plastic	106
Fish out of Water	107
What he was trying to do	109
Doing your own thing	110
Why didn't you say . . . ?	111
The tales as structures	112
The secret protecting itself	113
A meaning of silence	114
A different kind of disciple	115
The testing function	116
Nasrudin	117
Putting in and taking out	117
The Lion who saw his face in the Water	118
Panacea	120
Admit One . . .	121
Moths	121
Reserved	122
What to see	123
Sure remedy	123
Unanimous	123

5

THE TEACHING STORY – 2

Pattern-seeking	130
Didactic prevents understanding	131

6

A FRAMEWORK FOR NEW KNOWLEDGE

The fruit of the tree	137
Community assumptions	138
Exclusion of possibilities	139
Science and Reality	141
New learning from the Past	142
Observance versus knowledge	144
Simplification	148
How, when and with whom	149
Themes and cultural context	151
Above the Skies . . .	153
Higher concepts	153
Interplay	155
The shock element	156
Imitation Sufis	157
History and the Sufis	159
Evolutionary religion	160
Literalists and Perceptives	161
Versatility of Sufism	162
The approach to Knowledge	163
Desire to teach is disabling	164
Attunement	164
Rationalization	165
The Natural and the Supernatural method	167
Bribery	168
Deep and shallow questions	169
Efficiency of Institutions	171
The Mystic Shrine	173

7

INVOLVEMENT IN SUFI STUDY

The Path	178
The Western Seeker	178
Do the ignorant understand the Wise?	179
Two kinds of Sufi group	179
Greed and aspiration	181
The balanced egg	182
'Come back in three years'	183
Importance of the organization	183
Similarity of this approach to other formulations	184
Other 'Higher consciousness' groupings	185
Random adoption of 'Teachings'	185
Pattern of the Sufi Enterprise	186

8

CONCLUSION

Some Further Reading	193
----------------------	-----