

Contents

Preface	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Author's Note	xiii
Introduction	1

PART ONE Germany 1800 – 60

1	The Results of Old Testament Criticism in Germany prior to 1800	15
2	W. M. L. de Wette	28
3	In the Footsteps of de Wette: Gesenius, Gramberg and George	50
4	Vatke's 'Biblical Theology'	69
5	Confessional Opposition to the Critical Method	79
6	Heinrich Ewald	91
7	Hofmann and Delitzsch: Confessional Scholars with a Difference	104
8	Christian Carl Josias von Bunsen: Diplomat and Scholar	121
9	Various Critical Scholars: Bleek, Hupfeld, Hitzig and Umbreit	130
10	Conclusions to Part One	138
	Appendix: Table of Old Testament Professors in Protestant Faculties in Germany 1800 – 1900	141

PART TWO England 1800 – 80

11	English Critical Old Testament Scholarship prior to 1800	147
12	German Old Testament Criticism in England 1790–1859	158
13	English Critical Old Testament Scholarship 1800–57	180
14	Samuel Davidson and his Dismissal in 1857	197
15	Essays and Reviews 1860	209
16	John William Colenso	220

17	English Critical Old Testament Scholarship 1864–80	238
18	Conclusions to Part Two	249

PART THREE

*England from 1880 and Germany from 1860:
The Streams Converge*

19	Germany from 1860: the Path to Wellhausen	257
20	England from 1880: the Triumph of Wellhausen	273
	Conclusion	291
	Bibliography	294
	Index of Biblical References	310
	Index of Modern Authors	314
	Index of Subjects and Biblical Names	318