PREFACE	v
1. INTRODUCTION TO THIS BOOK	1
1.1. Positioning the 4C/ID-model	2
1.2. Brief Description of the 4C/ID-Model	7
1.3. Structure and Contents of the Book	10
1.4. How to Use This Book	14
PART A: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF COMPLEX COGNITIVE SKILLS	15
2. WHAT ARE COMPLEX COGNITIVE SKILLS?	19
2.1. The Structure of Complex Cognitive Skills	20
2.2. The Acquisition of Complex Cognitive Skills	25
2.3. Implications for Analysis and Design	27
2.4. Summary	28
3. MODELS OF RULE AUTOMATION	31
3.1. Declarative vs. Procedural Knowledge	32
3.2. Development of Procedural Knowledge	37
3.3. Development of Declarative Knowledge	42
3.4. Implications for Analysis and Design	43
3.5. Summary	44
4. MODELS OF SCHEMA ACQUISITION	47
4.1. Types of Declarative Knowledge	48
4.2. Development of Declarative Knowledge	54
4.3. Development of Procedural Knowledge	57
4.4. Implications for Analysis and Design	61
4.5. Summary	62
5. TRANSFER AND REFLECTIVE EXPERTISE	65
5.1. Historical Views on Transfer	66
5.2. Reflective Expertise	69
5.3. Implications for Analysis and Design	74
5.4. Summary	77
PART B: ANALYZING COMPLEX COGNITIVE SKILLS	79
6. PRINCIPLED SKILL DECOMPOSITION AND MACRO-LEVEL SEQUENCING	83
6.1. Principled Skill Decomposition in an ISD Context	84
6.2. Identification of Constituent Skills	85
6.3. Description of Constituent Skills	89
6.4. Classification of Constituent Skills	90
6.5. Macro-level Sequencing	94
6.6. Implications for Further Analysis and Design	99
6.7. Summary	99

7. ANALYZING RECURRENT CONSTITUENT SKILLS.....	101
7.1. Types of Recurrent Constituent Skills	102
7.2. Procedural Analysis	103
7.3. Rule-based Analysis	107
7.4. Common Aspects of Analysis Methods	110
7.5. Implications for Analysis and Design	113
7.6. Summary	114
8. ANALYZING PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE	117
8.1. Analyzing Facts	118
8.2. Analyzing Simple Schemata	119
8.3. Common Aspects of Analysis Methods	125
8.4. Implications for Analysis and Design	128
8.5. Summary	129
9. ANALYZING SUPPORTIVE KNOWLEDGE AND MENTAL MODELS	131
9.1. An Associative Approach	132
9.2. Classes of Relationships	134
9.3. Analyzing Complex Schemata	137
9.4. Common Aspects of Analysis Methods	144
9.5. Implications for Analysis and Design	146
9.6. Summary	147
10. ANALYZING STRATEGIC KNOWLEDGE AND MESO-LEVEL SEQUENCING.....	149
10.1. Analyzing Heuristics	151
10.2. Analyzing SAPs	152
10.3. Common Aspects of Analysis Methods	155
10.4. Meso-level Sequencing	159
10.5. Implications for Analysis and Design	165
10.6. Summary	166
PART C: TRAINING DESIGN FOR COMPLEX COGNITIVE SKILLS.....	169
11. DESIGN OF WHOLE-TASK PRACTICE: PROMOTING INDUCTION.....	173
11.1. Description of Problems or Worked-out Examples	174
11.2. Product-Oriented Problem Formats	178
11.3. Process-Oriented Problem Formats	183
11.4. Selecting Problem Formats	186
11.5. Sequencing Whole-task Problems	187
11.6. First Blueprint for the Training Program	191
11.7. Summary	193
12. DESIGN OF PART-TASK PRACTICE: PROMOTING COMPILATION.....	195
12.1. Considering Part-task Practice	196
12.2. Part-Task Practice Items	199
12.3. Sequencing Practice Items	203
12.4. Drill and Overlearning	207
12.5. Connecting Part-Task Practice to the Blueprint	210
12.6. Summary	212
13. JUST-IN-TIME INFORMATION PRESENTATION	215
13.1. Partitioning and Presenting JIT Information	217
13.2. Presenting Demonstrations and Instances	223
13.3. Feedback on Recurrent Constituent Skills	229
13.4. Fading JIT Information Presentation	232

13.5. Connecting JIT Information to the Blueprint	234
13.6. Summary	234
14. PROMOTING ELABORATION AND UNDERSTANDING	237
14.1. Strategies for Information Presentation	238
14.2. Presenting Case Studies and Modeling Examples	242
14.3. Presenting Supportive and Strategic Knowledge	252
14.4. Feedback on Non-recurrent Constituent Skills	257
14.5. Connecting Supportive and Strategic Knowledge to the Blueprint	261
14.6. Summary	262
15. DEVELOPMENT OF LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS	265
15.1. Media Selection	266
15.2. Developing a Learning Environment: An Example	270
15.3. Transfer Effects	276
15.4. Dealing with System Dynamics	280
15.5. Summary	282
16. SOME FINAL REMARKS	285
16.1. Instructivism vs. Constructivism	285
16.2. Revisiting the Main Features of the 4C/ID-model	288
16.3. Evaluation and Future Developments	291
16.4. A Final Word	294
