

Philosophy of Suffering

Metaphysics, Value, and Normativity

Edited by
David Bain, Michael Brady and
Jennifer Corns

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	viii
Acknowledgements	xii
Introduction	1
DAVID BAIN, MICHAEL BRADY AND JENNIFER CORNS
PART I
The nature of suffering	17
1 The world according to suffering	19
ANTTI KAUPPINEN
2 The disruption model of suffering	37
TOM MCCLELLAND
3 Painfulness, suffering, and consciousness	55
SAM COLEMAN
4 Suffering pains	75
OLIVIER MASSIN
PART II
Pain and valence	101
5 Valence, bodily (dis)pleasure, and emotion	103
FABRICE TERONI
6 Pain and mere tastes: Toward an attitudinal-representational theory of valenced perceptual experiences	123
HILLA JACOBSON

vi	Contents
7	Pain: An attitude with two heads HAGIT BENBAJI	145
PART III
	The value of suffering	163
8	Suffering as transformative experience HAVI CAREL AND IAN JAMES KIDD	165
9	After motivational hedonism: Feeling bad can be good   feeling good can be bad COLIN WAYNE LEACH	180
10	From suffering to satisfaction: Why we need pain to feel pleasure BROCK BASTIAN	194
11	‘My horses and hogs and even everybody seemed changed’: Appreciating beauty in depression recovery TASIA SCRUTTON	211
PART IV
	The normativity of suffering	227
12	Hedonic rationality JENNIFER CORNS	229
13	The agony of reason: The unsteady bond between suffering and human rationality MATTHEW FULKERSON AND JONATHAN COHEN	251
14	Some paradoxes of pain for rational agency MARILYN MCCORD ADAMS	278
15	Suffering as a virtue MICHAEL BRADY	296
	Index	311