

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Abbreviations	9
Introduction	11
1. Matters Historical: clearing the ground	15
I. The biblical chronology	15
II. Ancient Near Eastern sources	17
III. Evidence for the relations between Semites and Egypt in the second millennium BC	19
IV. Some historical reconstructions	20
V. Other problems encountered by the historical approach	27
VI. How far should the Book of Exodus be regarded as a historical work?	31
VII. The figure of Moses as illustration of the issues	36
2. Matters Institutional: the religious core	39
I. Passover	40
II. Unleavened Bread	44
III. Firstlings	45
IV. Theophany	47
V. Covenant	50
VI. Law	53
3. Matters Literary: the creative synthesis	61
I. S.R. Driver and 'literary criticism'	62
II. Martin Noth and 'the history of tradition'	66
III. Brevard S. Childs and 'canonical criticism'	70
IV. Redaction criticism	73
V. The literary approach	86
VI. The Decalogue as illustration of the issues	90

4. Matters Theological: the pervasive intention	101
I. The revelation of the divine name 'Yahweh'	101
II. The theology of the D-version	105
III. The theology of the P-edition	110
Index of Biblical References	115
Index of Authors	119