

Contents

EDITOR'S FOREWORD	ix
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xiii
INTRODUCTION: A Metaphor's Fatal Attraction	1
CHAPTER
1 "You Have the Forehead of a Whore" The Rhetoric of a Metaphor	12
Biblical Metaphors as Representations     of Hebrew Reality	15
Metaphors of Power and Punishment	18
How Metaphors Work	23
Marriage as a Controlling Metaphor	25
Male Prestige in the Marriage Metaphor	27
Marriage, Sexuality, and the Female Body	30
Conclusion	33
2 "Is She Not My Wife?" Prophets, Audiences, and Expectations	35
Female Powerlessness, Male Voyeurism	40
The Feminization of Cities	44

	“Is She Not My Wife?” Rhetoric and Audience in Hosea	45
	“You Have the Forehead of a Whore” Rhetoric and Audience in Jeremiah	52
	“The Lady Is a Tramp”: Rhetoric and Audience in Ezekiel	58
	Conclusion	64
3	“Am I Not Her Husband?” The Unpredictable and Unimaginable God	68
	God, Gendering, and Power	78
	Monotheism	80
4	“Yet I Will Remember My Covenant with You” The World of Romance and Rape	84
	Till Death Do Us Part	88
	The Vulnerable Male	90
	“I Will Seduce You”: Romance Rhetoric in Hosea	92
	“I Have Loved You with an Everlasting Love” Romance Rhetoric in Jeremiah	93
	“My Fair Lady”: Romance Rhetoric in Ezekiel	96
	Resisting Romance and Rape Rhetoric	98
	A Metaphor Gone Awry	104
	Metaphors Hurt	106
	Metaphors as Pointing Fingers	110
	A Metaphor of Brokenheartedness	113
	NOTES	121
	INDEX	149