

Contents

Foreword: The Ambivalence of Interactivity and Potentials of Play Patrick Jagoda	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction Andrew Klobucar	1
PART I: ALTERNATE REALITIES AND GAMING	27
<hr/>
1. A Digital Walk-Through: Thomas Hirschhorn's Monuments Series and Alternate Reality Games Andrew Klobucar	29
2. Larp as Medium, Larp as Message: Some Notes on Managing a Diegetic Commons Haley/Harlin Steele with Alejandro Ponce de León	65
3. Kustom Karakter Orthographee for a Visual, Written, Digital World Rob Wittig and Mark C. Marino	114
4. Deliberate Play and Workplace Learning Zsolt Olah	126
PART II: DIGITAL INTERACTIVE FICTION	145
<hr/>
5. Fun Time: Exploring Clocks, Computers, and Videogames Rebecca Rouse	147
6. Interactive Storytelling as an Educational Tool: Escape to Apple Wick Hill Jessica Ross-Nersesian	162

PART III: THE IDEOLOGIES OF GAMING	185
<hr/>
7. Are We All Speaking of the Same Feminazi? Understanding the Nuances of a Gendered Slur in Gaming Culture Kristian A. Bjørkelo	187
8. Interactivity and Its Discontents J † Johnson	194
Notes on Contributors	213
Index	217