

Contents

Preface	9
Abbreviations	15
PART ONE: LITERARY STRUCTURE AND THEME
1. Introduction	21
2. Migration, marriage and return (Ruth 1:1-22)	27
Section I (1:1-7b): Migrants in Moab	28
Section II (1:7c-19a): On the road home	30
Section III (1:19b-22): Back in Bethlehem	38
Significant themes in Ruth 1	40
3. Encounter in the harvest field (Ruth 2:1-23)	43
Section IV (2:1-3): Ruth goes gleaning	47
Excursus: Intent or providence?	48
Section V (2:4-17): Encounter with Boaz	50
Excursus: The logic of symmetry, and other “bugs in the bed”	57
Section VI (2:18-23): Evaluation	59
Significant themes in Ruth 2	60
4. Encounter at the threshing floor (Ruth 3:1-18)	63
Section VII (3:1-7): Naomi’s plan	65
Section VIII (3:8-14a): Encounter with Boaz	68
Section IX (3:14b-18): Evaluation	72
Significant themes in Ruth 3	74
5. Resolution (Ruth 4:1-22)	77
Section X (4:1-11b): The legal case	79
Section XI (4:11c-17): Dénouement	82
Section XII (4:18-22): Genealogical conclusion	87
Significant themes in Ruth 4	89
6. The overall structure of the book of Ruth	91
PART TWO: THEOLOGY
7. The theology of the book of Ruth	97
Ruth 1	98
Ruth 2	103
Ruth 3	105
Ruth 4	107

PART THREE: PURPOSE AND PROVENANCE

8. Purpose	115
I. Past theories	115
II. Clues as to intention	120
III. Interpreting this evidence	130
Excursus: Literary precursors and genre	136
9. The marriage of Ruth and Boaz	143
Evidence for and against a leviratic interpretation	145
A. Naomi's speech (1:11-13)	146
B. Ruth's request (3:9-13)	147
C. Boaz' challenge to the kinsman (4:1-5)	148
D. A problem text (4:5)	150
E. The linking of redemption and marriage (4:5)	165
F. The sandal custom (4:7-8)	168
G. Boaz' contract (4:9-10)	169
H. Two blessings (4:11-12, 16-17)	170
I. Specialist kinship terms	171
J. Interim summary	172
K. Counter-arguments considered	172
L. A multi-staged approach	174
M. The significance of the term "brother"	176
N. Genealogies and genitors?	179
Conclusion	181
10. Provenance	183
A. Language and style	185
(i) Evidence for a late date	186
(ii) Evidence indicating an earlier date	193
B. Arguments based on purpose	199
Conclusion	205
Epilogue	207
A translation showing the main structural divisions of the book of Ruth	211
Bibliography	221
Indexes of authors and Scripture references	235