

Contents

Illustrations	ix
Introduction	I
1. The Struggle to Survive	21
Fire and Destruction	24
Court Lands and Economics	29
Court Society Dispersed and Disengaged	38
Court Administration	43
Women at Court	50
Sengoku Emperors	56
Power and Authority	58
2. Normalcy and Its Pretenses	69
Flowers, Kickball, and the Bath	70
Nenjū Gyōji	77
Annual Observances During Sengoku	82
Keeping Dressed	89
3. Court Society During Reunification	99
The Year 1568	103
The Case of Yamashina Tokitsune	114
4. Unifiers and Aristocrats	124
Court Initiatives	128
Leaning on the Court	136
Material Developments	144
Ambiguities	153
Uncertainties	162

5. The Crises of 1609–1610	169
The Court Lady Scandal	170
The Meaning of the Scandal	179
The Abdication Crisis	190
6. Codifying the Court	198
Creating Laws for the Court	200
Family Arts and the Kuge shohatto	212
Rank and Seating in the Kuge shohatto	217
7. Of Persons and Structures	225
Stability Lost and Regained	226
Court Governance and Society	235
8. The Culture of a New Aristocracy	248
Cultural Renaissance	250
Of Flowers and Tea	257
Architecture	271
Culture and the Individual	278
Conclusion	287

Appendixes

A. Character List of Japanese Books Collected and Copied by Tokugawa Ieyasu, 1614–1615	303
B. Character List of Japanese Terms and Names	305
C. Aristocratic Diaries of the Fifteenth to Seventeenth Centuries	313

Reference Matter

Notes	321
Works Cited	375
Index	401