

CONTENTS

|                                                                                             |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| A Note on References                                                                        | xi  |
| *            *            *                                                                 |     |
| The Rider on the Winged Horse (1959)                                                        | I   |
| *            *            *                                                                 |     |
| Shakespeare's Pastoral Comedy (1959)                                                        | 29  |
| Shakespeare's Comic Insight(Annual Shakespeare Lecture, British Academy, 1962)          | 47  |
| Review of King Lear , ed. G. I. Duthie(In the New Cambridge Shakespeare (1967))  | 65  |
| Implications of King Lear : a Postscript (1971)                                      | 72  |
| Sir Dagonet in Arthur's Show (1960)                                                         | 81  |
| *            *            *                                                                 |     |
| 'A Physician in a Great City'(Presidential Address, Johnson Society of Lichfield, 1951) | 91  |
| Rasselas Reconsidered (1951)                                                         | 102 |
| Rasselas : a Rejoinder (1970)                                                        | 120 |
| Johnson's Last Allusion to Mary Queen of Scots (1957)                                       | 130 |
| Johnson and Juvenal (1959)                                                                  | 137 |
| Johnson and Boswell on their Travels (1965)                                                 | 155 |
| Review of The Letters of Samuel Johnson ,edited by R. W. Chapman (1954)          | 170 |
| *            *            *                                                                 |     |
| The Sir Walter Scott Lectures for 1960                                                      |     |
| I. Scott and Shakespeare                                                                    | 179 |
| II. Scott and the Sense of Time                                                             | 195 |

|                                                                     |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Scott and the Art of Revision (1968)                                | 213 |
| Jane Austen and Walter Scott:a Minor Point of Comparison (1971) | 230 |
| *       *       *                                                   |     |
| Robert William Chapman(Obituary for the British Academy, 1961)  | 247 |
| *       *       *                                                   |     |
| Index                                                               | 259 |

PLATES

- |                                                                                   |                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| I. Proofs of the first edition of Redgauntlet ,vol. i, pp. 240 and 241 | facing p. 216 |
| II. Scott's manuscript of Redgauntlet , vol. i, fol. 58                    | ,, 217               |