

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Acknowledgements                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | viii    |
| Introduction                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ix      |
| NICHOLAS OF CUSA AND ZABARELLA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |         |
| I Cardinal Zabarella and Nicholas of Cusa: from community authority to consent of the communityMitteilungen und Forschungsbeiträge der Cusanus-Gesellschaft 17, 1986                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 157–176 |
| II Ein unruhiges Leben. Franciscus Zabarella an der Universität von Padua (1390–1410): die Welt, die Nikolaus von Kues vorfandMitteilungen und Forschungsbeiträge der Cusanus-Gesellschaft 24, 1998                                                                                                                                                                                     | 5–40    |
| III Eccē Sacerdos Magnus : On welcoming a new bishop. Three addresses for bishops of Padua by Franciscus ZabarellaNicholas of Cusa on Christ and the Church. Essays in Memory of Chandler McCluskey Brooks for the American Cusanus Society [Studies in the History of Christian Thought 71] eds G. Christianson and T.M. Izbicki. Leiden &amp; New York: Brill, 1996, pp. 57–70 | 1–16    |
| IV Canonists in crises ca. 1400–1450: Pisa, Constance, BaselNicholas of Cusa and His Age: Intellect and Spirituality. Essays Dedicated to the Memory of F. Edward Kranz, Thomas P. McTighe and Charles Trinkaus [Studies in the History of Christian Thought 105] eds T.M. Izbicki and C.M. Bellitto. Leiden &amp; Boston: Brill, 2002, pp. 63–75                                       | 1–14    |

CONSTANCE AND CONCILIARISM

- V The decree “Haec Sancta” and Cardinal Zabarella.
His role in its formulation and interpretation 145–176
Annuario Historiae Conciliorum 10, 1978
- VI Emperor-elect Sigismund, Cardinal Zabarella, and the Council of Constance 353–370
The Catholic Historical Review 69, 1983
- VII The call for unity at the Council of Constance: sermons and addresses of Cardinal Zabarella, 1415–1417 307–318
Church History 53, 1984
- VIII Cardinal Franciscus Zabarella (1360–1417) as a canonist and the crisis of his age: schism and the Council of Constance 196–208
Zeitschrift für Kirchengeschichte 96, 1985
- IX “More easily and more securely”: legal procedure and due process at the Council of Constance 234–247
Popes, Teachers, and Canon Law in the Middle Ages.
Festschrift for Brian Tierney, eds J.R. Sweeney and S.
Chodorow. Ithaca, NY: Cornell University Press, 1989
- X Natural rights, natural law and the canonist: Franciscus
Zabarella, 1360–1417 727–750
Proceedings of the Tenth International Congress of Medieval
Canon Law. Syracuse, NY, 13–18 August 1996, eds
K. Pennington, S. Chodorow and K.H. Kendall [Monumenta
Iuris Canonici, Series C: Subsidia vol. 11]. Vatican City:
Biblioteca Apostolica Vaticana, 2001
- XI Radicalism and restraint in a late medieval canonist 409–417
Proceedings of the Eleventh International Congress of Medieval Canon Law. Catania, 30 July–6 August 2000, eds
M. Bellomo and O. Condorelli [Monumenta Iuris Canonici,
Series C: Subsidia, vol. 12]. Vatican City: Biblioteca Apostolica
Vaticana, 2006

|           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |         |
|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| XII       | Reform at the Council of Constance in the view of a canonist and cardinal, Franciscus ZabarellaIudex et Magister. Miscelánea en honor al Pbro. Nelson C. Dellaferrera, 2 vols, vol.1: Historia del Derecho. Buenos Aires: Pontificia Universidad Católica Argentina, 2008                          | 147–163 |
| ZABARELLA |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |         |
| XIII      | Cardinal Zabarella on papal and episcopal authorityProceedings of the First Patristic, Medieval and Renaissance Conference, Villanova University, 1976, ed. G.F. Lytle. Washington DC: The Catholic University of America Press, 1976                                                              | 39–52   |
| XIV       | Franciscus Zabarella (1360–1417): papacy, community and limitations upon authorityReform and Authority in the Medieval and Reformation Church, ed. G.F. Lytle. Washington, DC: The Catholic University of America Press, 1981                                                                      | 37–54   |
| XV        | The art of teaching and learning law: a late medieval tractHistory of Universities 8, 1989                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 27–74   |
| XVI       | Padua in crisis and transition around 1400Presented at the 19th International Congress of Historical Sciences held at Oslo, Norway, 8–13 August 2000 in Session sponsored by the International Commission on the History of Universities. First publication                                        | 1–9     |
| XVII      | A sermon for the Feast of Saints Peter and Paul, June 29 1407: a mixed papalist responsePresented at Church, Law and Society in the Middle Ages. A Conference in Honor of Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. mult. Peter Landau at Millersville University of Pennsylvania, January 29–30, 2010. First publication | 1–20    |
|           | Index                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 1–8     |

|                                        |
|----------------------------------------|
| This volume contains xviii + 346 pages |
|----------------------------------------|