

C O N T E N T S

List of Illustrations	ix
Preface	xv
Introduction	1
PART I: THE DESIRE FOR PAINTING
1. Vivre Noblement in Late Medieval Bruges	13
2. Painting and the Popularization of Vivre Noblement	41
PART II: FROM REPRESENTATION TO REPLICATION
3. The Production of Replications: The Visual Evidence	87
4. Documentary Evidence of Painters' Workshop Practices and Methods of Reproduction	132
PART III: THE MARKETPLACE
5. The Rise of a Mass Market for Painting	163
Conclusion	189
Appendix I: Constituents of Model Groupings	197
Appendix II: The Number of Stalls Rented by Painters at the Bruges Fairs, 1513–1550	205
Appendix III: Stall Rental Fees Paid by Painters as Compared with Other Participants in the Pandt Market	206
Notes	207
Bibliography	237
Index	247