

CONTENTS

- Foreword Dr. John K. Roth ix
- Preface Stephen Feinberg and Samuel Totten xv
- Acknowledgments xvii
- About the Contributors xix
- 1 The Significance of Rationale Statements in Developing a Sound Holocaust Education Program
Samuel Totten, Stephen Feinberg, and William Fernekes 1
- 2 The Holocaust, Historiography, and History
David M. Crowe 24
- 3 Instructional Issues/Strategies in Teaching the Holocaust
Paul Wieser 62
- 4 Using Primary Documents in a Study of the Holocaust
Samuel Totten and Robert Hines 81
- 5 Incorporating First-Person Accounts into a Study of the Holocaust
Samuel Totten 107
- 6 Choosing Holocaust Literature for Early Adolescents
Karen Shawn 139

- 7 Incorporating Fiction and Poetry into a Study of the Holocaust at the Secondary Level
Samuel Totten 156
- 8 For Better or Worse: Using Film in a Study of the Holocaust
Judith Doneson 194
- 9 Expressing the Inexpressible through Film
John Michalczyk and Steve Cohen 203
- 10 The Internet and the Study of the Holocaust
Derek S. Symer 223
- 11 The Inclusion of Art in a Study of the Holocaust
Shari Rosenstein Werb 239
- 12 Drama Activities and the Study of the Holocaust
Belarie Zatzman 263
- 13 Including Music in a Study of the Holocaust
Roselle K. Chartock 280
- APPENDIX A Holocaust Chronology
Stephen Feinberg 304
- APPENDIX B Holocaust History, Film, Education, and Other Resources: A Select Annotated Bibliography
Samuel Totten and Stephen Feinberg 311
- Index 333