
Contents

Chapter 1 An Introduction To Small Group Communication 1

What Is Small Group Communication? 3

Meeting with a Common Purpose

Feeling a Sense of Belonging to the Group

Exerting Influence upon One Another

Communicating Face-to-Face

Why Learn about Small Groups? 5

Advantages and Disadvantages of Working in Small Groups 6

Advantages

Disadvantages

Types of Small Groups 11

Primary Groups

Study Groups

Therapy Groups

Committee Meetings

Public Communication Formats

Panel Discussions

Symposium Presentations

Forum Presentations

An Introduction to Small Group Communication: Putting Principle into Practice 17

Practice 18

Notes 20

Chapter 2	Small Group Communication Theory	21
	The Nature of Theory and the Theory-Building Process	23
	Theory: A Practical Approach to Group Communication	24
	Explanatory Function
	Predictive Function
	Verbal Dynamics in the Small Group	27
	The Power of the Spoken Word
	Words as Barriers to Communication
	Theoretical Perspectives for the Study of Small Group Communication	29
	Field Theory and Small Group Communication
	Rules Theory and Small Group Communication
	Systems Theory and Small Group Communication
	A Theoretical Model of Small Group Communication	33
	Small Group Communication Theory: Putting Principle into Practice	35
	Practice	35
	Notes	36
Chapter 3	Group Formation	37
	Why Do People Join Groups?	39
	Interpersonal Needs	39
	Maslow's Hierarchy
	Schutz's Theory
	Individual Goals	43
	Group Goals	43
	Establishing Mutuality of Concern
	Interpersonal Attraction	47
	Similarity
	Complementarity
	Proximity/Contact/Interaction
	Physical Attractiveness
	Group Attraction	48
	Group Activities
	Group Goals
	Group Membership

Group Formation: Putting Principle into Practice 50

Practice 51

Notes 52

Chapter 4 Relating To Others In Small Groups 53

Roles 55

Self-Concept Development: Role Formation

Diversity of Roles in Small Groups

Group Task Roles

Group Building and Maintenance Roles

Individual Roles

Norms 61

Identifying Group Norms

Conforming to Group Norms

Status 64

Privileges Accorded to High-Status Group Members

Effects of Status Differences

Observing Status Differences to Predict Group Dynamics

Power 66

Power Bases

Power Processes

Power Outcomes

Trust 68

Developing Trusting Relationships

Self-Disclosure

The Johari Window

The Development of Group Relationships over Time 75

Relating to Others in Small Groups: Putting Principle into Practice 76

Roles

Power

Trust

Norms

Status

Practice 78

Notes 79

Chapter 5	Improving Group Climate	81
	A Case Study	82
	Defensive Communication	84
	Defensive and Supportive Climates	84
	Evaluation vs Description
	Control vs Problem Orientation
	Strategy vs Spontaneity
	Neutrality vs Empathy
	Superiority vs Equality
	Certainty vs Provisionalism
	Disconfirming and Confirming Responses	87
	Disconfirming Responses
	Confirming Responses
	Defensiveness and Uncertainty	90
	Listening	91
	Types of Listening
	Barriers to Effective Listening
	Group Cohesiveness	95
	Composition and Cohesiveness
	Individual Benefits and Cohesiveness
	Task Effectiveness and Cohesiveness
	Communication and Cohesiveness
	Communication Networks	96
	Another Factor: Group Size	98
	Group Climate and Productivity	99
	Improving Group Climate: Putting Principle into Practice	100
	Practice	101
	Notes	103
Chapter 6	Nonverbal Group Dynamics	105
	The Importance of Nonverbal Communication to Group Communication	107
	Frameworks for Describing and Analyzing Nonverbal Cues	109
	Categories of Nonverbal Communication
	Dimensions of Nonverbal Meaning

Applications of Nonverbal Communication Research 112

Body Posture and Movement
Eye Contact
Facial Expression
Vocal Cues
Territoriality and Personal Space
Personal Appearance
Communication Environment

Nonverbal Group Dynamics: Putting Principle into Practice 123

Interpreting Nonverbal Behavior
Body Posture and Movement
Eye Contact
Facial Expression
Vocal Cues
Territoriality and Personal Space
Personal Appearance
Communication Environment

Practice 126

Notes 127

Chapter 7 Conflict Management in Small Groups 130

What Is Conflict? 131

Managing Different Types of Conflict
Myths About Conflict

Groupthink 137

Symptoms of Groupthink

Consensus: A Goal of Task-Oriented Small Groups 144

Nature of Consensus
Suggestions for Reaching Consensus

Conflict Management in Small Groups: Putting Principle into Practice 148

Groupthink
Consensus

Practice 150

Notes 155

Chapter 8 Understanding Problem Solving in Small Groups 157

Decision Making vs Problem Solving 158

The Group Problem-Solving Process 159

Formulating Discussion Questions 160

Questions of Fact
Questions of Value
Questions of Policy

Conducting Research: Preparing for Group Discussion 165

Library Research 165

The Card Catalog
Computer Access System
The Stacks
Periodical and Newspaper Indexes and Holdings
The Reference Section
Government Documents
Survey Research
Sample Questions

Types and Tests of Evidence 172

Facts
Examples
Opinions
Statistics
Using Evidence Effectively

Two Approaches to Group Problem Solving 174

The Descriptive Approach 175

Phase One: Orientation
Phase Two: Conflict
Phase Three: Emergence
Phase Four: Reinforcement
The Process Nature of Group Phases

Understanding Problem Solving in Small Groups:

Putting Principle into Practice 181

Formulating Discussion Questions
Conducting Research
Two Approaches to Group Problem Solving

Practice 182

Notes 183

Chapter 9 Small Group Problem-Solving Techniques 185

A Traditional Approach to Problem Solving:

Reflective Thinking 187

Step One: Identify and Define the Problem
Step Two: Analyze the Problem

Step Three: Suggest Possible Solutions
Step Four: Suggest the Best Solution(s)
Step Five: Test and Implement the Solution
Applying Reflective Thinking

A Creative Approach to Problem Solving: Brainstorming 192
Applying Brainstorming

Question-Oriented Approaches to Problem Solving 195

Ideal-Solution Format
Single-Question Format
Applying Question-Oriented Approaches
Agendas for Participative Group Problem Solving
Buzz Sessions
RISK Technique
Nominal Group Technique
Quality Circles: A Participative Decision-Making Agenda

Small Group Problem-Solving Techniques: Putting Principle into Practice 205

Reflective Thinking
Brainstorming
Ideal Solution and Single Question
Participative Decision Making

Practice 206

Notes 211

Chapter 10 Leadership 213

What Is Leadership? 215

Trait Perspective 215

Functional Perspective 216

Task Leadership
Process Leadership

Situational Perspective 221

Leadership
Situational Factors in Leadership Behavior: A Case Study
A Contingency Model of Leadership Effectiveness
Some Observations on the Situational Approach to Leadership

Emergent Leadership in Small Groups 228

Leadership Training 230

Managing Meetings Effectively 231

Planning the Meeting
Directing the Meeting

Leadership: Putting Principle into Practice 233

Practice 235

Notes 237

Chapter 11 Observing and Evaluating Group
Communication 239

Theory and Observation: A Natural Relationship 240

Observing Communication Networks: Interaction Diagrams 241

Observing Group Climate 243

Confirming and Disconfirming Responses

Observing Roles and Role Perceptions 246

Group Role Inventory

Group Role Inventory Sheet

Functional Roles

Observing Group Cohesiveness 249

Self-Report Measure: A Cohesiveness Index

Observing Group Interaction 249

Interaction Process Analysis

Observing Group Leadership 250

Leadership Rating Scale

Feedback Rating Instrument

Evaluating Group Meetings 256

Post Meeting Reaction Sheet

Observing and Evaluating Group Communication: Putting Principle into Practice 257

Practice 258

Notes 258