

INDEX

Introduction	7
Activity of the Ego and the Image Paolo Aite, Rome	11
Children's Drawings during First Interviews and their Unconscious Relationship to the Investigator R. Blomeyer, Berlin	20
Practice of Analytical Psychology and its Relationship to Psychological Type of Analyst Katherine Bradway and Joseph Wheelwright, San Francisco	31
On the Methodology of Dream Interpretation Hans Dieckmann, Berlin	48
The Archetypal Sphere of Effect in the Initial Phase and in the Evolution of the Process Ursula Eschenbach, Stuttgart	60
The Principles of Analytic Psychotherapy in Childhood Michael Fordham, London	72
On Active Imagination M.-L. von Franz, Zürich	88
Alchemy and Analytical Psychology Robert Grinnell, Rome	100
Practical Application of Alchemical Theory Joseph L. Henderson, San Francisco	113
The Therapeutic Value of Alchemical Language James Hillman, Zürich	118
Alchemy, Marx, and the Clinical Imagination David Holt, London	127

Active Imagination Questioned and Discussed Elie G. Humbert, Paris	134
Dreams and Psychological Types Thomas Kirsch, San Francisco	139
The Use of the Dream in Contemporary Analysis Kenneth Lambert, London	145
The Question of Motivation in Child Therapy Mariella Loriga, Milan	165
The Delusion in Analytical Psychology Niel Micklem, London	174
The Dream: Imaginative Activity versus Interpretation Mario Moreno, Rome	182
Psychosis as Visionary State John W. Perry, San Francisco	193
Active Imagination in two Analysands of Different Function Type Faye Pye, London	199
The Energy of Warring and Combining Opposites: Problems for the Psychotic Patient and the Therapist in achieving the Symbolic Situation J. W. T. Redfearn, London	206
Psychotherapy in Depressive Psychotic States Augusto Vitale, Milan	219
Establishing connections between two worlds Edith Wallace, New York	222
On Depressive Delusion H.-J. Wilke, Berlin	232
The Treatment of Chronic Psychoses C. T. Frey-Wehrlin, R. Bosnak, F. Langeegger, Ch. Robinson, Zürich	241