

Contents

Preface ix

PART I: INTRODUCTION

- 1. Introduction to the Study of Test Anxiety 3
Irwin G. Sarason
 - The Aims of This Book 5
 - Stress and Test Anxiety 6
 - Experimental Approach to Test Anxiety 7
 - Test Anxiety and Self-Efficacy 12
 - A Glimpse into the Future 13

- 2. Defining Test Anxiety: Problems and Approaches 15
Joan E. Sieber
 - Introduction 15
 - Contemporary Approaches to Defining
Test Anxiety 18
 - Ethical Dilemmas in Defining and Studying
Test Anxiety 27
 - Alternative Approaches: Transpersonal Psychology and Neurolinguistic Programming 33

PART II: THEORY AND RESEARCH

- 3. Test Anxiety and Cue Utilization 43
Russell G. Geen
Anxiety and Range of Cue Utilization 43
Anxiety and Reactions to Success and Failure 51
Anxiety and Responses to Internal Cues 54
- 4. Test Anxiety and the Encoding and Retrieval of Information 63
John H. Mueller
Encoding Processes and Test Anxiety 64
Retrieval Processes 78
- 5. The Development of Test Anxiety in Children 87
Jerome B. Dusek
Test Anxiety in Children 88
Measuring Test Anxiety 94
Test Anxiety and Attending Processes 99
Test Anxiety and IQ and Achievement Test Performance 104
Conclusions 106
- 6. Worry and Emotionality in Test Anxiety 111
Jerry L. Deffenbacher
Measurement of Worry and Emotionality 112
Correlates of Worry and Emotionality 113
Cues Eliciting Worry and Emotionality 118
Worry and Emotionality as Sources of Interference 120
Other Evidence on the Importance of Worry 122
Conclusions and Cautions 122
Implications of Worry and Emotionality for the Treatment of Test Anxiety 124
- 7. Test Anxiety and Physiological Responding 129
Kenneth A. Holroyd and Margret A. Appel
The Role of Physiological Arousal in Test Anxiety 129

Physiological Effects of Coping and Task Demands	137
Summary	146

PART III: CLINICAL AND EDUCATIONAL APPLICATIONS

- 8. Behavioral Interventions for Alleviating Test Anxiety: A Methodological Overview of Current Therapeutic Practices 155
George J. Allen, Maurice J. Elius, and Susan F. Zlotlow
- | | |
|---|-----|
| An Overview of Current Treatment Practices | 155 |
| Methodological Trade-Offs in Test Anxiety
Therapy Studies | 165 |
| Specific Methodological Issues in the Therapeutic
Investigations | 167 |
| Strengths and Limitations of Current Therapeutic
Endeavors | 178 |
- 9. Toward a Conceptual Model for the Treatment of Test Anxiety: Implications for Research and Treatment 187
Donald Meichenbaum and Lynda Butler
- | | |
|----------------------------|-----|
| Prologue | 187 |
| Overview of the Chapter | 188 |
| The Scientist: An Analogy | 188 |
| Internal Dialogue | 189 |
| Behavioral Acts | 192 |
| Behavioral Outcomes | 194 |
| Cognitive Structures | 195 |
| Implications for Treatment | 201 |
- 10. Self-Control Approaches to the Treatment of Test Anxiety 209
Douglas R. Denney
- | | |
|----------------------------------|-----|
| Applied Relaxation Techniques | 214 |
| Self-Control Training Techniques | 220 |
| Cognitive Coping Techniques | 228 |
| Conclusion | 235 |

- 11. Modeling Approaches to Test Anxiety and Related Performance Problems 245
Ted L. Rosenthal
- Fear-Removal Media 246
 - Treatment Formats 252
 - Therapeutic Content 259
 - Retrospect and Prospect 264
- 12. Mathematics Anxiety 271
Frank C. Richardson and Robert L. Woolfolk
- The Assessment of Mathematics Anxiety 272
 - Mathematics Anxiety and Test Anxiety 274
 - Women and Mathematics 278
 - Sex Differences in Mathematics Anxiety 280
 - Critiques of Mathematics Curricula 280
 - New Programs and Services for Mathematics-Anxious College Students 281
 - Treatment of Mathematics Anxiety—Controlled Studies 282
 - Some Clinical Observations and Comments 283
 - Future Directions 285
- 13. Anxiety and Instruction 289
Sigmund Tobias
- Approaches to the Study of Anxiety and Instruction 290
 - Anxiety Treatment Interactions 291
 - Summary of Prior Findings 295
 - Recent Research Findings 296
 - Anxiety, Difficulty, and Achievement 301
- 14. Test Anxiety Reduction and Computer-Based Learning Environments 311
Harold F. O'Neil, Jr., and Frank C. Richardson
- Computer-Based Learning Environments 312
 - Computer-Assisted Instruction 313
 - Computer-Managed Instruction 314

- Anxiety and Computer-Based Learning 314
 A Semiautomated Test Anxiety Reduction
 Program 315
 The Possible Near Future of Computer-Based
 Education 318
 Stress Management—A Comprehensive Approach 319

15. Test Anxiety and the School Environment 327

*Beeman N. Phillips, Gayle D. Pitcher,
 Murray E. Worsham, and Steven C. Miller*

- The Ubiquitous Nature of Evaluation in School 327
 The Prevalence and Significance of Test Anxiety in School 328
 Test Anxiety as the Motive To Avoid Failure and Criticism 329
 Test-Anxious Students' Response to School Tests and Testing 331
 Teachers, Teaching, and Test Anxiety 333
 Test-Anxious Children's Response to Teacher
 Evaluative Reactions 334
 Interaction of Test Anxiety and Other School
 Environmental Factors 336
 Evaluation, Test Anxiety, and Learned
 Helplessness 337
 Continued Motivation, External Evaluation, and
 Test Anxiety 338
 Need for a School Ecological Perspective in Test
 Anxiety Research 340
 Some School Policy Implications 342

PART IV: OVERVIEW

16. Cognitive-Attentional Theory of Test Anxiety 349

Jeri Dawn Wine

- The Test Anxiety Construct: Definition and Measurement 351
 Cognitive and Behavioral Concomitants of Test Anxiety 354

viii CONTENTS

Approaches to Alleviating the Negative Effects of Test Anxiety 364

A Bidirectional Model of Test Anxiety 375

Future Directions in Test Anxiety Theory and Research 378

Author Index 387

Subject Index 399