

contents

	Preface: how to use this book	ix
	Acknowledgements	xvii
1	about literature	1
1.1	literature: fundamental questions	3
	Introduction	3
	What is literature? Bill Overton	4
	Why study literature? Kenneth Womack	10
1.2	your literature course	18
	What to expect from your literature course	18
	Typical structure and content	18
	Literature and language	20
	Literature and creative writing Jennifer Cooke	21
	Comparative literature Doris Bremm	25
	Getting the most from your course	31
1.3	study skills for literature	33
	Introduction	33
	Study skills Christopher Ringrose	34
	Making the most of seminars and lectures	34
	Using the library	35
	Using IT and the internet	37
	Revising and exams	38
	Coursework and your dissertation	39
	Writing and presentation	40
	Writing essays	40
	Presentation skills	44
	Plagiarism	45
	Bibliographies and citation conventions	47
2	literature modules	55
2.1	literature	57
	Introduction	57

	Critical Studies: an example of a core module	59
	Conclusion	63
2.2	periods	65
	Old English literature Philippa Semper	65
	Medieval literature David Griffith	72
	The sixteenth century Joan Fitzpatrick	80
	The seventeenth century Hugh Adlington	86
	The eighteenth century Bill Overton	93
	Romanticism and gothic Ian McCormick	101
	The nineteenth century and the Victorians Carolyn Kelley	110
	Modernism Alex Murray	120
	Contemporary literature	125
2.3	forms, genres and other popular modules	134
	Introduction	134
	Tragedy	135
	Comedy	142
	The novel Helen Wright	150
	Poetry Bill Overton	157
	Drama Neal Swettenham and Robert John Brocklehurst	164
	Epic Nigel Wood	171
	Lyric Nigel Wood	177
	Satire Nigel Wood	181
	Realism Lawrence Phillips	186
	Fiction Lawrence Phillips	193
	Postmodern fiction Alex Murray	198
	Gender Doris Bremm	202
	Class Nick Freeman	209
	Colonial and postcolonial literature Jenni Ramone	215
	Subjectivity Megan Becker-Leckrone	221
	Children's literature Jenny Bavidge	230
	Film studies Andrew Dix	237
	Popular fiction Jan Baetens	244
	American literature Brian Jarvis and Andrew Dix	250
3	critical approaches and schools of thought	263
3.1	critical approaches	265
	Introduction	265
	Formalism Megan Becker-Leckrone	267
	Archetypal criticism Doris Bremm	270
	New criticism Megan Becker-Leckrone	272
	Bakhtin and dialogic criticism Karine Zbinden	275
	Feminism Ruth Robbins	278
	Marxism Alex Murray	286

Structuralism	Alex Murray	290
Psychoanalysis	Brian Jarvis	293
Deconstruction	Maria-Daniella Dick	296
Postcolonialism	Jenni Ramone	303
New historicism	Christopher Ringrose	304
Cultural materialism	Alex Murray	306
African American criticism	Andrew Dix	309
Chicano/a studies	Jenni Ramone	311
Gay studies and queer theory	Helen Davies	314
Cultural studies	Brian Jarvis	321
Ecocriticism	Jenny Bavidge	324
Postmodernism	Andrew Dix	327
4	key terms and concepts in English literature	331
	Julian Wolfreys, Ruth Robbins and Kenneth Womack
5	career pathways	351
5.1	career pathways	353
	Introduction	353
	Careers for English graduates Ruth Robbins	354
	The experience of a degree in English Claire Bowditch	359
	Interview Claire Bowditch	360
	Conclusion	361
6	learning resource	363
6.1	chronology	365
	Bibliography	395
	Notes on contributors	403
	Index	408