

Contents

Introduction	by Peter Jackson	vii
Places of First Publication		xiii
Cecily Clark: An Appreciation	by Peter Clemoes	xv
Cecily Clark: curriculum vitae		xviii
The Published Writings of Cecily Clark	compiled by Peter Jackson	xix

STUDIES IN HISTORY, LITERATURE AND LANGUAGE

1	The Narrative Mode of The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle before the Conquest	3
2	On Dating The Battle of Maldon : Certain Evidence Reviewed	20
3	Certains aspects de l'hagiographie anglo-latine de l'Angleterre anglo-normande	37
4	Sir Gawain and the Green Knight : Characterisation by Syntax	49
5	Women in England after 1066: The Factual Evidence	58

ESSAYS IN ONOMASTICS

— PRINCIPLES AND METHODOLOGY

6	Clark's First Three Laws of Applied Anthroponymics	77
7	Certains éléments français de l'anthroponymie anglaise du Moyen Age: essai méthodologique	84
8	Historical Linguistics – Linguistic Archaeology	92
9	Socio-Economic Status and Individual Identity: Essential Factors in the Analysis of Middle English Personal-Naming	100

— POST-CONQUEST ENGLAND: GENERAL STUDIES

10	Women's Names in Post-Conquest England: Observations and Speculations	117
11	Towards a Reassessment of 'Anglo-Norman Influence on English Place-Names'	144
12	Domesday Book – A Great Red-Herring: Thoughts on Some Late-Eleventh-Century Orthographies	156
13	The Myth of 'the Anglo-Norman Scribe'	168

— POST-CONQUEST ENGLAND: CASE-STUDIES

14	People and Languages in Post-Conquest Canterbury	179
15	Some Early Canterbury Surnames	207
16	Battle c.1110: An Anthroponymist Looks at an Anglo-Norman New Town	221
17	The Early Personal Names of King's Lynn: An Essay in Socio-Cultural History.	241
	Part I – Baptismal Names
	Part II – By-Names	258
18	Willelmus rex? vel alius Willelmus?	280

THE LIBER VITAE OF THORNEY ABBEY

19	British Library Additional MS. 40,000, ff. 1v–12r	301
20	The Liber Vitae of Thorney Abbey and its 'Catchment Area'	320
21	A Witness to Post-Conquest English Cultural Patterns: The Liber Vitae of Thorney Abbey	339

DIVERSIONS AND REVIEWS

22	Nickname-Creation: Some Sources of Evidence, 'Naive' Memoirs Especially	351
23	The Codretum (Whatever That May Be) at Little Roborough	362
24	REVIEW. P.H. Reaney, The Origin of English Surnames , paperback re-issue (London, 1980)	370
25	REVIEW. Adrian Room, Naming Names: Stories of Pseudonyms and Name Changes, with a Who's Who (London, 1981) and idem , Dictionary of Trade Name Origins (London, 1982)	373
26	REVIEW. G.W. Lasker et al. , Surnames and Genetic Structure (Cambridge, 1985)	377
27	REVIEW. Richard McKinley, The Surnames of Sussex (Oxford, 1988)	381
	Onomastic Index	385
	Index of Words and Phrases	442
	Index of Manuscripts	448