

Contents

Foreword vii

JAMES M. GOOD, Dean, Faculty of Arts, University of Western Ontario

Preface ix

Introduction 3

M.J. TOSWELL, University of Western Ontario

Grammar, Spelling, and the Rhythm of the Alliterative Long Line 13

THOMAS CABLE, University of Texas at Austin

The Battle of Maldon and Beowulfian Prosody 23

ROBERT PAYSON CREED, University of Massachusetts at Amherst

The Poet's Self-Interruption in Andreas 42

JOHN MILES FOLEY, University of Missouri

Alliterative Licence and the Rhetorical Use of Proper Names in The Battle of Maldon 60

M.S. GRIFFITH, New College, Oxford

Simplifying Resolution in Beowulf 80

JAMES KEDDIE, University of Western Ontario

Computer Assistance in the Analysis of Old English Metre: Methods and Results – A Provisional Report 102

O.D. MACRAE-GIBSON AND J.R. LISHMAN, University of Aberdeen

vi Contents

The Case against a 'General Old English Poetic Dialect' 117

DAVID MEGGINSON, University of Ottawa

The Intonational Basis of Lazamon's Verse 133

DOUGLAS MOFFAT, Middle English Dictionary, Ann Arbor

Constraints on Resolution in Beowulf 147

GEOFFREY RUSSOM, Brown University

Translation and Transformation in Andreas 164

BRIAN SHAW, University of Western Ontario

Speech and the Unspoken in Hamðismál 180

T.A. SHIPPEY, Saint Louis University

Heroic Aspects of the Exeter Book Riddles 197

ERIC GERALD STANLEY, Pembroke College, Oxford

Bibliography of C.B. Heatt 219

List of Contributors 225