

CONTENTS

SECTION 1: THE HISTORY OF LINGUISTIC IDEAS

Werner Hüllen:

Introduction 17

R. H. Robins:

William Bullokar's Bref Grammar for English: Text and Context
(Plenary Lecture) 19

Werner Hüllen:

A Great Chain of Words: The Onomasiological Tradition in English
Lexicography 32

Michael Cahn:

The Printing Press as an Agent in the History of Linguistic Ideas? 47

David Cram:

Collection and Classification: Universal Language Schemes and the Development of Seventeenth-Century Lexicography 59

Rüdiger Schreyer:

Deaf-Mutes, Feral Children and Savages: Of Analogical Evidence in 18th-Century Theoretical History of Language 70

Friederike Klippel:

Rules and Exercises: German Textbooks for Teaching and Learning
English around 1800 87

John Walmsley:

Parameters or Continuum: The History of English Grammatical Thought since Sweet 100

Hans Ulrich Boas:

Misconceptions and Overinterpretations: Chomsky's View on de
Saussure 116

SECTION 2: ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE IN INDIA

Gerhard Stilz:
Introduction	135
Meenakshi Mukherjee :
The Home and the World: The Indian Novel in English in the Global Context (Plenary Lecture)	140
Klaus H. Börner:
Salman Rushdie, The Satanic Verses : Observations on Cultural Hybridity	150
Beate Neumeier:
Passages to and from India: E. M. Forster and Salman Rushdie ..	163
Elisabeth Bronfen:
A Sense of Strangeness: The Gender of Cultural Identity in Bharati Mukherjee's Jasmine	176
Dieter Riemenschneider:
Marginalizing the Centre – Centring the Periphery: The Reception of Indian Literature in English	193
Uwe Carls:
Types of Lexical Peculiarities in Indian English	205
Josef Schmied:
Syntactic Style Variation in Indian English	217
Manfred Görlach:
Text Types and Indian English	233

SECTION 3: AMERICAN STUDIES IN THE POSTMODERN ERA

Gerhard Hoffmann:

Introduction 253

Cathy N. Davidson:

Loose Change: Issues and Controversies in Women's Studies and American Studies (Plenary Lecture) 258

Günter H. Lenz:

American Studies as Multicultural Critique: Postmodern Culture,
Interdisciplinarity, and Intercultural Identities 269

Lothar Bredella:

Intercultural Understanding between Relativism, Ethnocentrism and Universalism: Preliminary Considerations for a Theory of Intercultural Understanding 287

Alfred Hornung:

"Make It New!": The Concept of Newness in American Studies ... 307

Gerhard Hoffmann:

Postmodernism and the Proliferation of Aesthetics: The Interrelation of Culture and Aesthetics in American Studies 320

Heinz Ickstadt:

The Status of Literature within the Changing Self-Definition of American Studies 340

Ludwig Deringer:

Regionalism and Universality in American and Canadian Literature:
The Pacific Northwest as Model 350

SECTION 4: LITERATURE AND RELIGION IN THE 20TH CENTURY

Sabine Volk-Birke:
Introduction	363
Willi Erzgräber:
T. S. Eliot's Poetic Treatment of Religious Themes (Plenary Lecture)	366
David Jasper:
Trespassing in the Wilderness: New Ventures in Canonical Criticism	381
Werner Jeanrond:
Literary Imagination, Theological Thinking, and Christian Praxis	392
Wolfgang Wicht:
Grace in "Grace": Purdon and Vaughan	402
Elmar Schenkel:
From Powys to Pooh: Some Versions of Taoism in British and American Literature	419
Ian Ross:
A Drunk Man, the Thistle, and God: A Look at MacDiarmid's 1926 Literary Use of Theology	433
Klaus Lubbers:
A Note on Anticlerical Imagery in Modern Irish Fiction	445
Jochen Achilles:
Religion in Modern Irish Drama: Social Criticism and Spiritual Reorientation	459

SECTION 5: VARIA

Jürgen Kamm:

The Mentality of Heroic Drama 473

Hermann Josef Schnackertz:

Peter Ackroyd's Fictions and The Englishness of English Literature 493

Alfred Bammesberger:

Editing Old English Runic Inscriptions 503

Hans Peters:

Relative who in Early Modern English 516

Renate Haas:

Women and the Development of English Studies in Germany 528

Hans-Jürgen Weckermann:

Frank Norris: The Masculine-Primitive View of Life 541