

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
ROBERT ILSON

PART I. TYPES OF DICTIONARY

A Lexicographical Dilemma: monolingual dictionaries for the native speaker and for the learner	7
---	----------

BETTY KIRKPATRICK

Monolingual and Bilingual Learners' Dictionaries: a comparison	15
---	-----------

BERYL T. ATKINS

Innovative Practices in French Monolingual Learners' Dictionaries as Compared with their English Counterparts	25
--	-----------

MARIE-NOËLLE LAMY

PART II. PARTS OF DICTIONARIES

Word-formation in Modern English Dictionaries	35
--	-----------

GABRIELE STEIN

English Pronunciation and its Dictionary Representation	45
--	-----------

J. C. WELLS

Grammar in the Dictionary	53
----------------------------------	-----------

HOWARD JACKSON

Collocations and Idioms	61
--------------------------------	-----------

MORTON BENSON

Defining the Indefinable	69
---------------------------------	-----------

DWIGHT BOLINGER

Usage Notes in Dictionaries: the needs of the learner and the native speaker	75
---	-----------

JANET WHITCUT

Lexicographic Evidence	81
-------------------------------	-----------

JOHN SINCLAIR

PART III. APPLICATIONS OF AND ALTERNATIVES TO DICTIONARIES

The Learner as Lexicographer: using dictionaries in second language learning	95
---	-----------

RICHARD ROSSNER

Working with the Monolingual Learners' Dictionary	103
--	------------

ADRIAN UNDERHILL

Alternatives to Dictionaries	115
-------------------------------------	------------

C. P. Hill

PART IV. FROM THEORY TO PRACTICE

From First Idea to Finished Artefact: the general editor as chief engineer	123
---	------------

CHARLES MCGREGOR

Notes on Contributors	133
------------------------------	------------