

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
1 Introduction	1
1.1 Approaches to conversation	3
1.1.1 Transaction and interaction	3
1.1.2 Field, tenor, mode and register	5
1.2 Conversational characteristics	7
1.2.1 Discourse management and topic goal	9
1.2.2 Placement of topics	10
1.2.3 Progression towards and digression from topic goal	11
1.3 Interactional encounters and speakers' moves	11
1.4 The interactional view of conversation	14
1.4.1 Status and face	15
1.4.2 Topic and speaker roles	18
1.5 Conversation as language in action	19
1.5.1 Language as a mode of action	21
1.5.2 Language in the construction of reality	25
1.6 Conclusion	27
2 Conversational Structure	30
2.1 Boundary sequences	31
2.1.1 Openings	32
2.1.2 Closings	40
2.2 The body of the conversation	42
2.2.1 Speech-in-action	43
2.2.2 Story	46
2.2.3 Story in conversation	52
2.3 Conclusions	63

3	Problems in Conversation	67
3.1	Repairs	68
3.1.1	Covert trouble and delayed repairs	70
3.1.2	Scapegoat repairs	81
3.1.3	Topic loops	84
3.2	Negative evaluations	86
3.3	Summary and comments	88
4	Transactional Encounters	90
4.1	Openings in transactions	92
4.1.1	The interview	92
4.1.2	The tutorial	94
4.2	Closing in transactions	96
4.2.1	The interview	96
4.2.2	The tutorial	97
4.3	Interactional breaks during transaction	98
4.3.1	Topic movement in transactions	99
4.3.2	Interaction and topic movement	101
4.4	Conclusions	104
5	Exercises	105
	Bibliography	113
	Appendix	116
	Dresses	116
	Xmas 83	134
	Celia	157
	Sylvia	168
	Dawsons	171
	Keyte extract 1	178
	Keyte extract 2	184
	Gilbey	188
	Julie	199
	Index	214