

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	xi

Part I Social Theory and the Sociology of Health and Illness

1 The Theoretical Origins and Development of the Sociology of Health and Illness	3
2 Shattering the Orthodoxy? Foucault, Postmodernism and the Sociology of the Body	33
3 The Feminist Challenge	61

Part II Contemporary Health Inequalities

4 Class Structure, Inequalities and Health	89
5 Gender Inequalities and Health Status	123
6 'Race', Ethnicity and Health Status	160

Part III Accomplishing Health and Health Care

7 Health Care in the 1990s and Beyond	195
8 Professional Powers: The Formal Health-Care Division of Labour in Transition	223

9 The Experience of Illness and Health Care in Contemporary Society	251
Notes	281
References	283
Index	309