

Contents

List of Plates	xiii
Abbreviations	xviii
1. Representing Historical Character	1
i. Parallels between the Arts	7
ii. Distinctions	13
iii. Iconic Portraiture	18
2. Iconic Biography: Izaak Walton and John Evelyn	22
i. Walton's Lives : 'All Truth and Equal Plainness'	26
ii. Spatial Form and Narrative Threads	38
iii. Walton's 'Visible Rhetorick'	45
iv. Evelyn's Icons of Friendship	52
3. Iconic Pictures: Van Dyck and Stuart Portraiture	65
i. The Survival of the Literal	70
ii. Icons	79
iii. Allegories	89
iv. Beyond Iconicism	98
4. Brief Lives and Miniatures: John Aubrey and Samuel Cooper	108
i. Like Fragments of a Shipwreck	108
ii. Aubrey's 'Piercing Eye'	116
iii. Cooper and the Paradox of the Miniature	123
5. Double Agents: Jonathan Richardson and Roger North	135
i. Richardson: The Painter as Biographer	136
ii. North: A Life of 'Perpetual Observation'	150
iii. North and Biographical Form	162
6. Hogarth's Dilemma	170
i. The Reluctant Face-painter	173
ii. The Painter as Pragmatist	178
7. Biography at Mid-century: Acts of Complicated Virtue	189
i. Mrs Piozzi's Anecdotes : Biography as Conversation	191
ii. Goldsmith's Nash : Biography as Romance	206
iii. Johnson's Savage : Biography as Redemption	215
iv. Coda	221

8. Reynolds and 'The Genius of Life'	227
i. A Theory of Character	229
ii. Divided Selves	239
iii. Images of a Life	249
9. Boswell's Flemish Picture	261
i. The General and the Particular	262
ii. Biographical Legitimacy	272
iii. The Life of an Image	277
iv. First Encounters and Last Farewells	285
Epilogue: Gainsborough's Butterfly	295
Index	299