

Contents

---

Introduction by CHRISTOPHER HEYWOOD vii

Literature and Criticism

- |   |               |  |    |
|---|---------------|--|----|
| 1 | JAMES NGUGI   | The African Writer and his Past            | 3  |
| 2 | ABIOLA IRELE  | The Criticism of Modern African Literature | 9  |
| 3 | D. S. IZEVBAE | Criticism and Literature in Africa         | 25 |

Language and Style

- |   |                |  |    |
|---|----------------|--|----|
| 4 | LALAGE BOWN    | The Development of African Prose-Writing in English: A Perspective | 33 |
| 5 | A. AFOLAYAN    | Language and Sources of Amos Tutuola                               | 49 |
| 6 | BRENDA PACKMAN | Some Problems of Translation in African Literature                 | 64 |

Literary Forms

- |   |                |   |     |
|---|----------------|---|-----|
| 7 | OYIN OGUNBA    | Modern Drama in West Africa                       | 81  |
| 8 | IME IKIDDEH    | The Character of Popular Fiction in Ghana         | 106 |
| 9 | E. OFORI AKYEA | Traditionalism in African Literature: J. P. Clark | 117 |

Authors and Works

- |    |                     |  |     |
|----|---------------------|--|-----|
| 10 | ELDRED JONES        | Progress and Civilization in the Work of Wole Soyinka              | 129 |
| 11 | DAVID COOK          | The Relevance of the King in Camara Laye's Le Regard du Roi | 138 |
| 12 | DAVID RUBADIRI      | The Development of Writing in East Africa                          | 148 |
| 13 | CHRISTOPHER HEYWOOD | The Novels of Peter Abrahams                                       | 157 |

Index 173