

Contents

| | |
|--|------|
| Preface | vii |
| Acknowledgments | xi |
| Introduction | |
| Racial Conflict, Identity and Mythology | xiii |
| Chapter 1 | |
| The “Nigger in Them”: Sarah Gertrude Millin’s Ideology of “Blood” in God’s Stepchildren (1924) | 1 |
| Chapter 2 | |
| “The Ways of Whitefolks” II: White Sterility in Gordimer’s A World of Strangers (1958) and La Guma’s Time of the Butcherbird (1979) | 39 |
| Chapter 3 | |
| In the Grasp of White Primitives: The Fight for Humanity in Andre Brink’s A Dry White Season (1984) | 69 |
| Chapter 4 | |
| Abrahams’ The Path of Thunder (1948) and Fugard’s Tsotsi (1980): Cross-Currents with African American Literature | 107 |
| Chapter 5 | |
| Coming of Age: Lynn Freed’s Home Ground (1986) and Toeckey Jones’s Go Well, Stay Well (1979) | 145 |
| Conclusion | |
| The Deep Shadow | 163 |
| Bibliography | 177 |
| Index | 181 |