

Contents

Introduction	TOM QUIRK	1
The Composition of Nature : Writing and the Self in the Launching of a Career	ALBERT VON FRANK	11
“Well, My Book Is Written—Let It Go. . . .”: The Making of A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur’s Court	HOWARD G. BAETZOLD	41
The Unsmiling Aspects of Life: A Hazard of New Fortunes	JOHN W. CROWLEY	78
“Quite the Best, ‘All Round,’ of All My Productions”: The Multiple Versions of the Jamesian Germ for The Ambassadors	RICHARD A. HOCKS	110
“There Was Something Mystic about It”: The Composition of Sister Carrie by Dreiser et al.	RICHARD W. DOWELL	131
Building The House of Mirth	CANDACE WAID	160
“A Truly American Book”: Pressing The Grapes of Wrath	ROBERT DEMOTT	187

The Making of Delta Wedding , or Doing "Something Diarmuid Thought I Could Do"	226
ALBERT J. DEVLIN
The Early Composition History of Catch-22	262
JAMES NAGEL
The Western American Context of One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest	291
STEPHEN L. TANNER
Notes on the Contributors	321
Index	325