

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1. What's Old Is New Again, or the Brand New Fetish: Black/White Bodies in American Racial Discourse	1
2. From Naxos to Copenhagen: Helga Crane's Mixed-Race Aspirations in Nella Larsen's Quicksand	27
3. Homeward Bound: Negotiating Borders in Lucinda Roy's Lady Moses and Danzy Senna's Caucasia	51
4. "This Is How Memory Works": Boundary Crossing, Belonging, and Blackness in Mixed-Race Autobiographies	77
5. B(l)ack to Last Drop? Mariah Carey, Halle Berry, and the Complexities of Racial Identity in Popular Culture	105
Conclusion	121
Notes	129
Bibliography	141
Index	161