

CONTENTS

	PAGE
THOMAS DUN	1
Head of a gang of outlaws, on account of whom King Henry I. is credibly supposed to have built Dunstable. Executed piecemeal.
SIR GOSSELIN DENVILLE	7
Head of a gang of robbers who had the audacity, so it is said, to hold up King Edward II.
ALICE ARDEN OF FEVERSHAM	13
Executed with her lover Mosbie and others in the year 1551 for the murder of her husband.
LORD STOURTON AND FOUR OF HIS SERVANTS	24
Executed 6th of March, 1556, for the murder of William Hartgill, Esq., and his son John, of Kilmington, Somerset, after an implacable persecution.
THOMAS WYNNE	29
Housebreaker and palacebreaker, whom conscience made confess a murder twenty years afterwards. Executed in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.
ALISTER MACGREGOR	34
Who, for slaughtering the Laird of Luss's friends, caused the name of Macgregor to be abolished. Executed in 1604.
ROBERT CREIGHTON, BARON OF SANQUIRE	36
Executed in 1612 for the murder of John Turner, who had accidentally put out one of his eyes.
SAWNEY BEANE	37
An incredible monster who, with his wife, lived by murder and cannibalism in a cave. Executed at Leith with his whole family in the reign of James I.

CONTENTS

	PAGE
THOMAS WITHERINGTON, JONATHAN WOODWARD AND JAMES PHILPOT	42
Who, in the reign of King James I., were the first to hear the exhortation of the bellman of St Sepulchre's.
ARTHUR NORCOTT AND MARY NORCOTT, HIS MOTHER	46
Executed in 1629 for the murder of the former's wife after the test of touching the body.
WALTER TRACEY	50
To whom is attributed a poetic encounter with Ben Jonson. Executed in 1634 after a robbery on the Duke of Buck- ingham.
SAWNEY CUNNINGHAM	55
An abandoned villain who inveigled and murdered his wife's lover, murdered his uncle, terrorised the country-side, and was executed at Leith, 12th of April, 1635.
ISAAC ATKINSON	75
A highwayman who specialised in robbing lawyers. Hanged at Tyburn in 1640.
PATRICK FLEMMING	80
An Irish highwayman who held sway near the Bog of Allen and, after numerous murders, was executed on 24th of April, 1650.
CAPTAIN ZACHARY HOWARD	84
A Royalist who lost his estates and turned highwayman. Executed 1652.
CAPTAIN JAMES HIND	92
Famous highwayman who robbed Roundheads and even made an attempt on Cromwell. Executed 24th of September, 1652.
CAPTAIN PHILIP STAFFORD	105
Whose patrimony being sequestered by the Roundheads, took to the highway and was hanged at Reading.
MAJOR GEORGE STRANGWAYES	116
Executed 28th of February, 1658, for the murder of the man who married his sister.

CONTENTS

	PAGE
GILDER-ROY	126
A most barbarous murderer of his mother and sister, who led a bloodthirsty gang of outlaws in Scotland and hanged a judge. Executed in April, 1658.
THOMAS GRAY	131
Nephew to the Exeter hangman, who turned thief and highwayman, and ended by marrying an heiress. His autobiography written about 1660.
JOHN, RICHARD AND JOAN PERRY	150
Mother and sons, executed in 1661 on the false statement of the first for the alleged murder of Mr William Harrison, who appeared alive two years later after strange adventures.
COLONEL JAMES TURNER	158
A spendthrift London merchant, against whom three robberies from other merchants were proved. Executed 21st of January, 1663.
MOSES DRAYNE ¹	161
Ostler, hanged at Brentwood in 1667 for the murder (by a Chelmsford innkeeper and his family some years before) of Thomas Kidderminster, a guest.
MARY FRITH; OTHERWISE MOLL CUTPURSE	169
A famous master-thief and an ugly, who dressed like a man, and died in 1663.
SAWNY DOUGLAS	179
A Scottish highwayman who laid England under toll, and took a copy of Chevy Chase to Tyburn when he was hanged on 10th of September, 1664.
JAMES BATSON	181
A rogue who became a pretty soldier and saw much of Europe, finally dying by the rope at home in 1666.
THOMAS SAVAGE	202
A profligate apprentice who murdered a fellow-servant, was executed twice, and finally buried 28th of October, 1668.

¹ It was discovered, when too late to put the case in its right order, that Borrow had given the wrong date for the execution.

CONTENTS

	PAGE
THE REV. ROBERT HAWKINS	208
The subject of a foul conspiracy on the part of Henry Larri- more and Sir John Croke that failed at Aylesbury Assizes, 11th of March, 1669.
STEPHEN EATON, GEORGE ROADES AND SARAH SWIFT	214
Executed 14th of July, 1669, for the murder of the Rev. John Talbot; their accomplice, Henry Prichard, being reprieved.
CLAUDE DU VALL	220
A Frenchman who, coming to England, became by his polite- ness and gallantry on the road the romantic darling of the ladies. Executed 21st of January, 1670.
THOMAS WILMOT	231
A notorious highwayman who hated and maltreated women. Executed 30th of April, 1670.
THOMAS BLOOD, GENERALLY CALLED COLONEL BLOOD	242
Who stole the crown from the Tower of London on 9th of May, 1671.
MARY CARLETON, THE GERMAN PRINCESS	249
A Kentish adventuress who travelled the Continent, acquired several husbands, and was executed on 22nd of January, 1673, for returning from transportation.
ANDREW RUTHERFORD OF TOWNHEAD	267
Executed for the murder of James Douglass, brother to Sir William Douglass of Cavers, on 25th of November, 1674.
GEORGE CLERK AND JOHN RAMSAY	268
Executed 1st of March, 1675, for poisoning John Anderson, an Edinburgh merchant; Kennedy, the chemist's apprentice who supplied them, being banished.
PHILIP, EARL OF PEMBROKE AND MONTGOMERY	271
Tried for the murder of Nathaniel Cony by his brother peers in 1678 and found guilty of manslaughter later.
THE REV. ROBERT FOULKES	274
Executed 31st of January, 1679, for the murder of his newly- born babe.

CONTENTS

	PAGE
CAPTAIN RICHARD DUDLEY	275
A companion of the highwayman whom King Charles II. dubbed Swifticks for his ride to York. Executed 22nd of February, 1681.
CAPTAIN VRATZ, JOHN STERN AND GEORGE BOROSKY	279
Foreigners who murdered Thomas Thynn, Esq., in Pall Mall, on behalf, it was alleged, of Count Coningsmark. Executed 10th of March, 1682.
WILLIAM NEVISON	283
A highwayman who, dying of the plague as was thought, re-appeared as his own ghost, and was finally executed at York in 1684.
JOHN COTTINGTON ALIAS MUL-SACK	292
Chimney-sweep, pickpocket and highwayman, who brought off some big coups. Executed in April, 1685.
EDWARD AND JOAN BRACEY	299
Who robbed on the highway together, the woman being executed in 1685 and the man being killed by a gunshot wound.
JONATHAN SIMPSON	304
A highwayman who was witty with a halter round his neck and, being reprieved, found that Newgate would not have him. Executed 8th of September, 1686.
WILLIAM CADY	307
A highwayman who shot a woman before the eyes of her husband for the wedding-ring she had swallowed. Executed in 1687.
PHILIP STANSFIELD, SON OF SIR JAMES STANSFIELD .	316
Executed 15th of February, 1688, for the murder of his father and for high treason.
INDEX	333