

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Purpose, Methods, and Limits	1
1. Antecedents	7
Signals of Closure	7
Direct and Indirect Form	16
Boccaccio, Day III, Fifth Story —Zima	17
Chaucer, "The Nun's Priest's Tale"	19
2. The Early Nineteenth Century	24
The Shape of the Short Story	24
Neal, "Otter-Bag"	24
XIrving, "The Story of the Young Italian"	27
Willis, "Mabel Wynne"	29
Poe, "The Fall of the House of Usher"	30
Direct and Indirect Form	35
Hawthorne, "The Celestial Rail-road," "Mrs. Bullfrog," "Roger Malvin's Burial"	35
XIrving, "Rip Van Winkle"	41
XMelville, "Bartleby the Scrivener," "I and My Chimney"	47
3. The Later Nineteenth Century	51
Conventional Patterns	51
Page, "Marse Chan"	52

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Purpose, Methods, and Limits	1
1. Antecedents	7
Signals of Closure	7
Direct and Indirect Form	16
Boccaccio, Day III, Fifth Story—Zima	17
Chaucer, "The Nun's Priest's Tale"	19
2. The Early Nineteenth Century	24
The Shape of the Short Story	24
Neal, "Otter-Bag"	24
XIrving, "The Story of the Young Italian"	27
Willis, "Mabel Wynne"	29
Poe, "The Fall of the House of Usher"	30
Direct and Indirect Form	35
Hawthorne, "The Celestial Rail-road," "Mrs. Bullfrog,"
"Roger Malvin's Burial"	35
XIrving, "Rip Van Winkle"	41
XMelville, "Bartleby the Scrivener," "I and
My Chimney"	47
3. The Later Nineteenth Century	51
Conventional Patterns	51
Page, "Marse Chan"	52

- The Surprise Ending: Aldrich, O. Henry 53
 Poe, "Ligeia" 57 M
 Wharton, "Roman Fever" 58 M
 Alternatives to Surprise—Indirection and Parody 60
 Twain, "The Notorious Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" 60
 Jewett, "A White Heron" 66
 Crane, "The Bride Comes to Yellow Sky" 70
4. Converging Closure and the Theory of Openness 74
 James, "Paste," "A Bundle of Letters,"
 "Four Meetings," "The Altar of the Dead" 74
 Convergence: Retrospection and New Directions 85
5. The Twentieth Century: New Forms 94
 Imagist Form 94
 Anderson, "Hands" 94
 Porter, "Flowering Judas" 100
 Compressed Form 107
 Hemingway, "Cat in the Rain," "Hills Like
 White Elephants," "The Short Happy Life
 of Francis Macomber" 107
6. The Twentieth Century: Extending the Frame 119
 The Illusion of Openness 119
 Oates, "Where Are You Going, Where Have
 You Been," and Capote, "Miriam" 119
 O'Connor, "Parker's Back" 122
 The Practice of Openness 124
 Updike, "Ace in the Hole" 124
 Malamud, "The Magic Barrel" 128
 Faulkner, "That Evening Sun" 130
7. Antistory and Story: From Tralfamadore to Tale 144
 The Semblance of Narrative 144
 Coover, "The Babysitter" 145
 The Rejection of Narrative 148
 Barthelme, "Balloon," and Gass, "In the

Heart of the Heart of the Country "	148
The Tale in Modern Perspective	152
Cheever, " Artemis, the Honest Well Digger "	152

8. Conclusion 160

Notes 166

Selected Bibliography 184

Index 189