

CONTENTS

Introduction 1

PART I: ESCAPE, EVASION, AMBIVALENCE

1. Re-Creating Walden:

Thoreau's Economy of Work and Play 27

2. Old Ways, New Ways:

Anxiety and Identity in

Roughing It and Life on the Mississippi 57

PART II: ALTERNATIVE ARTICULATIONS

3. Frontier Fairy Tales:

Cahan, Rølvaag, and the Resistance to

Play Progressivism 99

4. "Find Their Place and Fall in Line":

The Revisioning of Women's Work in

Herland and Emma McChesney & Co. 152

PART III: WHOSE GOLDEN AGE?

5. "An Ideal Body to Be Lived Up To":

Play, Display, and the Self in The Autobiography of an

Ex-Coloured Man and The Great Gatsby 211

6. Public Space, Private Lives:
Recreation and Re-Creation in
An American Tragedy and Native Son 259

7. Southern Counterpoint:
Bodily Control and the "Problem" of Leisure in
Sanctuary and Their Eyes Were Watching God 304

Afterword 346

Notes 355

Bibliography 413

Index 435