

Content

Foreword	9
Introduction By Jim Mann	15
PART ONE: THE PROBLEM OF HEALTH
Opening Remarks By Per Bendix Jeppesen	21
I Is There a Correlation Between High Sugar Consumption and the Increase in Health Problems in Latin America? By Per Bendix Jeppesen	25
PART TWO: THE PREFERENCE FOR SWEETNESS
Opening Remarks By Susanne Hojlund	55
II Sweetness Preference, Sugar Intake, and Obesity in Latin America By Ulla Kidmose and Heidi Kildegaard	59
III Tasting Time: The Meaning of Sugar in Cuba. Contextualizing the Taste of Sweetness By Susanne Hojlund	73
PART THREE: THE GLOCALIZED PRACTICES
Opening Remarks By Ken Henriksen	93

IV	Estás Aquí Para Ser Feliz: The Globalization of Sweetened Soft Drinks in Mexico By Ken Henriksen	97
V	The Sweet Tooth of Mother Earth: Sugar's Symbolic Ways Among the Highland Indians in Bolivia By Annie Oehlerich	115
VI	Production Methods and Quality of Sugar Cane in Latin America By Gitte K. Bjørn and Ulla Kidmose	123
 PART FOUR: THE ART OF SLAVERY
	Opening Remarks By Karen-Margrethe Simonsen	137
VII	The Perceptions of Modernity in José Lins do Rego's Sugar Cane Cycle, or "not all sugar is sweet" By Vinicius Mariano de Carvalho	143
VIII	"Sin azúcar no hay país": Transcultural Images of Sugar and Modernity in the Poetry of Nicolás Guillén By Karen-Margrethe Simonsen	157
	About the authors	169