

Contents

Foreword by Frank Kermode	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
1 The Alchemical context	1
PART ONE: 'Upon Appleton House, to my Lord Fairfax'
2 Introduction	39
3 Art, nature and alchemy in 'Upon Appleton House'	60
4 The dissolution of the nunnery	69
5 The garden fort	87
6 The meadow	101
7 The wood	133
PART TWO: The 'Book of Nature'
8 The secret code in 'Nature's Mystick Book'	165
9 The inverted tree	181
10 The wood (continued)	189
11 The river	198

viii Marvell and Alchemy

12	Maria and the Halcyon	211
13	Appleton House perfected	229

PART THREE: 'The Nymph complaining for the death of her fawn'

14	Introduction	241
15	Sacrifice and lament	245
16	The 'cervus fugitivus'	248
17	'Lillies without, roses within'	255
18	Such amber tears	264
19	Diana's shrine	279
20	Alchemy and metamorphosis	285
21	The purple grain	287
22	The alchemical 'projectio'	291

PART FOUR: 'To his coy mistress' 295

	Bibliography	320
--	--------------	-----

	Index	347
--	-------	-----