

CONTENTS

Preface	v
1. Introduction and Overview Akihiro Ishikawa	1
PART I: GENERAL DISCUSSION
2. From Unemployment to Selfemployment Veljko Rus	19
3. Industrial Participation in Advanced Capitalist Society: A Critical View Nils Mortensen	36
4. Participative Management as a Paradox Ramesh C. Sarikwal	56
PART II: PROBLEMS IN WESTERN COUNTRIES
5. Technological Change, Economic Recession and Industrial Democracy: A Case Study in England Thomas Woodhouse	73
6. Participation and Employment: A Canadian Perspective Hem C. Jain	101
7. The Changing Segmentation of the Workforce and Industrial Democracy: The Australian Case Gordon W. Ford	119
PART III: PRACTICES IN JAPAN
8. The Japanese Model of Labour-Management Relations and Workers' Participation Naomi Maruo	135
9. Actual Conditions of Workers' Participation in Heavy Industry Susumu Inuzuka	149
10. Economic Recession and Employment Adjustments in the Textile Industry Chieko Kamibayashi	164

11.	The Joint Consultation System in Industrial Relations in the Public Sector Yoshimoto Kawasaki	180
12.	Employment Crisis and Participation in an Industrial Community Akio Tanosaki	194
13.	Perspectives of Life-Time Employment Security Practice in the Japanese Enterprise Masumi Tsuda	206
14.	The Japanese Style of Workers' Self-Management: From the Voluntary to the Autonomous Group Kunio Odaka	225

PART IV: SITUATION IN ASIAN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

15.	The Labor-Management Joint Consultation System in Korea Kyong-Dong Kim	239
16.	Capitalist Development and Industrial Conflict in Malaysia Ai-Yun Hing	255
17.	Industrialization, Employment and Participation: The Indian Case Kali K. Chaudhuri	277
18.	The Employment Situation in Developing Societies and the Quest for Social Participation Jugendra Sahai	292
19.	Selfemployment and Democratic Participation: Two Indian Experiments Chintamani Lakshmanna/Mamata Lakshmanna	303

PART V: EXPERIENCES IN SOCIALIST COUNTRIES

20.	Self-Management and Employment: Yugoslav Experiences Bogdan Kavčič	315
21.	Employment, Planning and Participation in Czechoslovakia Stanislav Škurla	330