

CONTENTS

Introduction.....	13
Major Themes and Structural Ways of Arguing Meaning in Graham Greene's Novels of the 1940s and 1950s (Peter Erlebach, Mainz).....	17
"Knowing" in Brighton Rock (Jean-Yves Monnier, Dijon).....	31
"Passing the Border": The Two Worlds of Travels With My Aunt (Volker Schulz, Vechta).....	41
Graham Greene and the Image of the Novelist (Nigel Wood, Birmingham).....	59
Graham Greene: Fiction and Film (Ann Piroëlle, Dijon).....	73
Graham Greene as a Catholic Novelist (Heinz Antor, Würzburg).....	91
Communism and Catholicism in The Comedians (Dorothea L. L. Barrett, Glasgow).....	119
"Mixed up and Caught up": Dimension of Political Experience in The Quiet American and The Honorary Consul (Uwe Böker, Regensburg).....	131

"Taking sides': Faith, action and indifference in the novels of Graham Greene (Paul O'Prey, Bristol).....	149
Graham Greene's Monsignor Quixote : An intertextual analysis (Wolfgang Müller, Mainz).....	161
"Watertight boxes": Ben Nicholson's "Painting 1937" and Graham Greene's novel The Human Factor (Thomas Michael Stein, Mainz).....	175
Post-modern elements in the novels of Graham Greene (Grahame Smith, Stirling).....	189
Contributors.....	201