

Contents

List of Figures	ix
Acknowledgments	xi

Introduction: What Postcolonial Theory Doesn't Say	1
ANNA BERNARD, ZIAD ELMARSAFY, AND STUART MURRAY

PART I

Disciplinary Constellations: New Forms of Knowledge

1 Capitalizing on English Literature: Disciplinarity, Academic Labor and Postcolonial Studies	13
CLAIRE WESTALL
2 Dangerous Relations? Lessons from the Interface of Postcolonialism and International Relations	30
SIMON OBENDORF
3 Managing Postcolonialism	49
MRINALINI GREEDHARRY AND PASI AHONEN
4 Postcolonial Modernism: Shame and National Form	67
JOHN C. HAWLEY

PART II

Case Studies: Geocultures, Topographies, Occlusions

5 Gaps, Silences and Absences: Palestine and Postcolonial Studies	87
PATRICK WILLIAMS
6 Facing/Defacing Robert Mugabe: Land Reclamation, Race and the End of Colonial Accountability	105
ASHLEIGH HARRIS

viii Contents

- 7 Staging the Mulata: Performing Cuba 121
ALISON FRAUNHAR
- 8 Amongst the Cannibals: Articulating Masculinity in Postcolonial Weimar Germany 141
EVA BISCHOFF
- 9 Postcolonial Postcommunism? 156
CRISTINA ŞANDRU

PART III

Horizons: Environment, Materialism, World

- 10 Neoliberalism, Genre and “The Tragedy of the Commons” 177
ROB NIXON
- 11 Reading Fanon Reading Nature 185
JENNIFER WENZEL
- 12 Towards a Postcolonial Disaster Studies 202
ANTHONY CARRIGAN
- 13 Postcolonial Nature? Or, “If Oil Could Speak,
What Would it Say?” 222
CRYSTAL BARTOLOVICH
- 14 Inherit the World: World-Literature, Rising Asia and the World-Ecology 239
SHARAE DECKARD
- Contributors* 257
Index 261