

Contents

List of illustrations	x
Notes on contributors	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
List of abbreviations	xiv
Map of the sites of disasters in the book	xviii
Introduction	1
1 Coping with disaster: agency and resilience in the Asia-Pacific context	3
EDWIN JURRIËNS, MINAKO SAKAI, ALEC THORNTON AND JIAN ZHANG
PART I
Civil society	17
2 Responding to disasters in the Asia-Pacific region: state and civil society relationships	19
DAVID W. LOVELL
3 Key factors for capacity-building of disaster relief operations: Indonesian examples	35
MINAKO SAKAI AND AMELIA FAUZIA
4 Fostering civil society organizations for disaster relief in Japan: challenges and prospects for sustainable future operations	52
MINAKO SAKAI AND KEISHIN INABA

PART II

Military and state institutions 67

- 5 The military and disaster relief in China: trends, drivers and implications 69

JIAN ZHANG

- 6 Myanmar, Cyclone Nargis and regional intermediaries 86

CHRISTOPHER ROBERTS

- 7 Temporalities of planning and disaster: slum demolition and the rebuilding of lives at the margins of Delhi 102

URSULA RAO

PART III

Local cultural knowledge and the media 117

- 8 The politics of the Mount Merapi eruption in Central Java, Indonesia 119

PRIYAMBUDI SULISTIYANTO

- 9 Coping with floods in urban Fiji: responses and resilience of the poor 132

JENNY BRYANT-TOKALAU AND JOHN CAMPBELL

- 10 From early warning system to trauma healing: alternative media and disaster relief in Central Java 147

EDWIN JURRIËNS

PART IV

Economic initiatives 169

- 11 Agrarianism, capitalism or protectionism? Exploring economic restructuring and local responses amidst global change in Samoa 171

ALEC THORNTON AND ETIENNE NEL

- 12 Responding to natural versus human-made disasters: lessons from Fiji 189

SATISH CHAND

Conclusion	207
13 Lessons from disaster relief in the Asia Pacific	209
JIAN ZHANG, MINAKO SAKAI AND EDWIN JURRIËNS
Index	217